C.I.O. Steelworkers To Ask 12½ Cents An Hour Pay Boost

NEW YORK (UP)—C.I.O. president, Philip Murray, disclosed today that the fourth-round wage increase demand of his 1,000,000-member United Steel Workers of America (C.I.O.) is 12½ cents an hour.

Murray's disclosure came as he opened the union's case before President Truman's fact-finding board which is sitting in an effort to find a settlement in the dispute between the union and the nation's steel industry.

The fourth-round wage demands of the union had not been disclosed before. Murray told the board the union's proposals "contemplate a total cost to the companies of 30 cents an hour."

"These encompass 12½ cents per hour in wages currently payable; 11.25 cents per hour in wages deferred for pension, and 6.27 cents per hour for social insurance," Murray said.

The steelworkers' union is one of three key industrial unions which have set the pattern for the three previous rounds of postwar wage increases. In 1946, the steel workers received an 18½ cents hourly raise. In 1947, they got 15 cents more. Last year, they received 14 cents.

Chinese Reds Capture New Slices Of Hunan Province

CANTON (AP)—Chinese Communist troops seized new areas of Hunan province today. The Nationalists conceded the Communists were astride the Canton-Hankow railroad between Changsha and Hengyang.

An official dispatch acknowledged loss of Chichow, 25 miles south of Changsha, capital of Hunan and a central China strongpoint. In taking the rail town, the Reds not only severed Nationalist communications between Changsha and Hengyang but gained control of the entire Chekiang railroad.

Chichow is the junction of the two railroads 315 miles north of the refugee Nationalist headquarters in Canton—which the Communist high command has ordered captured by Aug. 15.

Nationalists also had had news from the Kiangsi front east of Hunan.

Winds Of Gale Force Wreak Havoc Around Three Rivers

THREE RIVERS, Que. (BUP)—This city and the surrounding district were a shambles today after a freak storm and gale force winds which ripped roofs from buildings and uprooted trees Wednesday night.

Police said there were no casualties.

Damage was so widespread that no accurate estimates were available, but the toll was expected to total thousands of dollars.

Hydro and telegraph workers worked for hours to restore communications after the sudden storm which tangled wiring and pulled down poles. The area was blacked out temporarily as a result, but lighting was back to normal today after emergency squads had worked through the night by flashlight and in the glare of car and truck headlights.

Some 50 bathers, seeking refuge from the summer heat wave in a public swimming pool, had close brushes with death or serious injury when an exhibition ground structure toppled into the pool, blown there by a wind that reached 75 miles an hour.

Johnson Talks On B.C. Housing

OTTAWA (BUP)—Reconstruction Minister Robert H. Winters today began a series of housing conferences which will deal with the problems of Toronto, British Columbia and Manitoba.

It was expected a conference on Ontario housing would be held as soon as it could be arranged.

Winters met first with Mayor Hiram McCallum and members of the Toronto Board of Control. He was scheduled to talk with Premier Byron Johnson of British Columbia this afternoon. Tomorrow his visitor would be Labor Minister Charles Greenleaf of Manitoba.

Premier Leslie Frost of Ontario said he was anxious to have an early Dominion-Ontario housing conference. Frost said he would like to have "action of a definite and decided nature" before fall.

Union Chiefs Talk Of New Agreement

MONTREAL (CP)—Officials of 15 international brotherhoods seeking higher wages from the railroads for 100,000 workers in the non-union running trades today continued discussions toward a new company-union agreement.

The brotherhoods seek a general wage increase of seven cents an hour retroactive to July 17 and, effective Sept. 1, a 40-hour week in place of the present 48-hour week with no reduction in take-home pay.

Union officials have met for several days following last week's opening talks with the railroads.

The Canadian Brotherhood of Railway Employees (C.B.R.E.), representing 35,000 employees, is also asking an hourly increase of 10 cents retroactive to July 16 plus the 40-hour week.

End Of Suicide Dive

Residents of Stockton, Calif., view the wreckage of the small plane in which Russell Higby, 23, was killed when he intentionally power-dived the craft into the cemetery where his wife was buried. Despondent over his wife's death, the youth terrorized the city for two hours with buzzing and low-level stunt flying, then climbed to about 2,000 feet and nosed the plane into a "60-degree dive," witnesses said.—(NEA Photo)

Romania Apologizes After Briton Held On Flimsy Charge

LONDON (BUP)—The British Foreign Office reported today that Romania had apologized for the arrest in Bucharest of Roderick Sarell, British charge d'affaires.

Sarell was seized Tuesday night in what Bucharest police said was a crackdown on a black market gang. He was held two hours.

A Foreign Office spokesman denounced the incident as "inexcusable." He said apologies had been made by the chief of protocol of the Romanian Foreign Office and by the Bucharest Chief of Police.

The spokesman said police had tried to get Sarell to sign a statement that he was the head of a movement to help Romanian employees of the British legation flee the country.

British Bonds Lowest Since Dark Days Of War

LONDON (AP)—British government bonds today plummeted to their lowest prices since the darkest days of the Second World War.

In the fourth day of a snow-balling slump, a flurry of selling at the opening of the London Stock Exchange knocked fractions, and even whole points, off most government shares.

There was a rally an hour later, when bargain hunters moved in to make small investments at the lower prices. But brokers regarded it as only temporary.

Pessimism prevailed generally that a downward slide caused by Britain's critical shortage of dollars and its seething labor unrest would continue.

War loan bonds issued in 1939 at a par of £100 ($400) slid 10s ($2) at the opening of business to 97½. The previous low was 98 when the British army was evacuating Dunkerque.

The appearance of a government broker on the stock exchange floor at midday had a steadying effect on the sellers. Lunchtime prices were virtually the same as Wednesday's closing levels.

The broker, in his traditional high silk hat, frock coat and striped trousers, bought heavily. There was no way of learning whether he was buying on behalf of the government or of private investors. But there was general belief the government was pumping funds into the market to back its own securities.

A steady stream of purchases by small investors also helped bulwark the market.

Buy For Bank Of England

There are several "government brokers." They buy for the Bank of England, but they have other clients as well. Thus the stock exchange was unable to tell for sure today whose money was providing the prop for the government bond prices.

There was no panic evident in the transactions. Close watches on the stock exchange said "there is only determined selling to convert paper assets into cash."

Financial writers in London newspapers wrote in grim terms of the market plunge.

Most of them said the need of business houses to convert securities into cash to bolster their working capital was a prime factor.

Other reasons advanced for the slump were Britain's apparent inability to solve its postwar economic crisis without yet more dollar pump-priming, and the threat of new labor trouble, especially in the coal mines and railroads.

Warned To Leave

HONGKONG (Reuter)—British nationals today were warned to leave South China, including the present Nationalist capital of Canton, which, according to reports reaching here, the Nationalist government is preparing to evacuate.

The warning came 48 hours after a similar warning to American nationals of the United States from their consul-general.

Fraser Raspberry Losses $1,000,000

NEW WESTMINSTER (CP)—Rain damage to Fraser Valley raspberry farmers may run as high as $1,000,000.

It is estimated one-third of the crop is already lost. Officials of the B.C. agriculture department say berry crop production will be less by 230,000 crates than last year. The berries are worth $4 a crate.

The area expects only about 540,000 crates this year.

But the only shortage expected is in fresh-fruit sales since canneries need appear adequate.

Loganberries also may be cut by one-third.

Destroyer Repaired

HALIFAX (CP)—The Canadian destroyer Micmac, heavily damaged in a collision with a freighter off Halifax Harbor two years ago, will be re-commissioned in September.

Navy officials here said the Tribal class destroyer will be equipped with the latest anti-submarine weapons. Eleven sailors were killed when the Micmac collided with the freighter Yarmouth County.

Frank Slide Relics Found Under Rocks

CRANBROOK (CP)—Dozens of men's canvas shoes in good condition, buried by the Frank slide in 1903, have been uncovered by a power shovel loading rock from the slide on railway cars. The shoes were in a carton, and only those under the stove-in top were damaged.

The rock is being loaded for ballast on railway right-of-ways. The Frank slide occurred April 29, 1903. A 70,000,000-ton slab of limestone crashed down the side of Turtle Mountain, burying the town of Frank and 66 persons.

Several years ago a baby's crib was found and identified by some of the survivors. Bones of victims were found when a road was blasted through the rock.

British Commons Works On Law To Curb Lord's Power

LONDON (AP)—The government today started legislation to curb the powers of the House of Lords on its last round through Parliament.

The bill would reduce from two years to one the period in which the Lords may delay the passage of any but appropriations measures.

Its main purpose is to clear the way for nationalization of the steel industry before the 1950 general election. The House of Lords, predominantly Conservative, has blocked the steel nationalization plan.

The House of Lords bill first was approved by the House of Commons in 1947. The Lords have turned it down twice.

Today's introduction means it will become law when passed by the House of Commons even if the Lords reject it.

New Issues Raised By Britain's Larger Dollar Aid Request

LONDON (Reuter)—Britain's warning that her dollar deficit in 1949-50 will be greater than expected met with a mixed reception in the press today, though most agreed the news was no surprise.

The Independent Times of London warns that "this drastic revision naturally raised some important issues."

The paper says it must be asked what hope there is of obtaining the agreement of the other European countries participating in the Organization for European Economic Co-operation to the increased share of Marshall aid which Britain was implicitly seeking; whether in any case anything like $1,518,000,000 could possibly be obtained; and whether the probable amount of aid could be sufficient to safeguard the sterling area's dollar position for another year.

British treasury officials Wednesday night announced the latest dollar-deficit estimate for 1949-50 is $1,518,000,000. This figure, $404,000,000 more than was estimated three months ago, was sent to O.E.E.C. headquarters in Paris.

Saying that U.S. public opinion had been led to expect the four years of the Marshall Plan would see Europe able to dispense with dollar aid by the middle of 1952, the Times warns that "the risk of disillusionment must not be lightly weighed."

Acheson Says Fast Action Necessary To Bolster Allies

WASHINGTON (AP)—State Secretary Dean Acheson told Congress today the United States should begin promptly to help rearm western Europe because "the possibilities of direct military aggression" by huge Russian forces cannot be ignored.

Leading off the administration's drive for Congressional approval of a $1,450,000,000 arms aid program, Acheson pictured western European countries as living under the shadow and constant fear of Russian armies which are the greatest the world has known in peacetime.

He also suggested Russia is approaching a crossroads in its policies toward the West where it may have to choose whether to continue trying conquest by political means or to resort to "military means."

Acheson appeared before the House of Representatives foreign affairs committee to make his plea for the arms program, already under attack by influential Congress members.

Acheson said "the mere presence" of the large Russian forces "has had a psychological effect that has been damaging to recovery and stability, and has been a major influence in the loss of freedom and self-determination in important areas of Europe."

"Nor can the possibilities of direct military aggression be ignored," he said. "When political aggression fails, as it has failed so far in western Europe, totalitarian regimes are often tempted to gain their objectives by military means. Particularly when they consider that no effective resistance is possible."

"It is our aim to forestall that possibility by making it clear that military aggression against the nations of western Europe can be undertaken only at great cost and with no assurance of success."

'Peace Would Be Secured'

Acheson repeatedly told the committee that if the United States would back up the pledges of the North Atlantic Treaty with military assistance, he believed peace would be secured and no aggressor would dare take on the whole combination of Western powers.

"The fundamental pledge of the treaty, that an attack on one signatory will mean an attack on all, closes the door to piecemeal aggression," Acheson said.

The bulk of the proposed arms aid would go to pact countries.

Acheson said that in the light of treaty pledges and with the arms program he did not believe "any aggressor at this time would dare" to take the "desperate gamble of an all-out war."

"The gangster mind likes to gamble only on sure things," he said.

"It is the aim of this program to insure that successful, swift and comparatively effortless military action by an aggressor would be impossible and therefore to make the gamble too hazardous to be tempting."

One after another, Acheson sought to meet the criticisms of the arms program by Senate and House members during the Senate debate on ratification of the treaty.

He said that because "our resources are limited," it is necessary to concentrate the main American effort on Europe. He termed this an effort vital to the security of the United States.

Under the administration plan during the next 12 months, Europe would receive $1,000,000,000 of the arms assistance. The rest would go to a number of non-Atlantic Treaty countries such as Greece, Turkey, Iran, Korea and the Philippines.

Acheson Warns U.S. Of Red Aggression Threat

WASHINGTON (AP)—State Secretary Dean Acheson told Congress today the United States should begin promptly to help rearm western Europe because "the possibilities of direct military aggression" by huge Russia forces cannot be ignored.

"Nor can the possibilities of direct military aggression be ignored," he said. "When political aggression fails, as it has failed so far in western Europe, totalitarian regimes are often tempted to gain their objectives by military means. Particularly when they consider that no effective resistance is possible."

TO BE MADE CLEAR
"It is our aim to forestall that possibility by making it clear that military aggression against the nations of western Europe can be undertaken only at great cost and with no assurance of success."

May Appoint Commission To 'Oversee' Press Of Britain
LONDON (UP)—Deputy Prime Minister Herbert Morrison hinted today the government might ask Parliament to appoint a commission to oversee the British press unless the publishers themselves could set up such a council.

Morrison opened debate in the Commons on the recent report by the Royal Commission on the Press. He said the report did not vindicate the press completely.

The government, Morrison said, "generally is sympathetic to legislation" which would keep the larger newspaper chains from expanding.

He said he believed the press was "an essential part of the organization of the British constitution."

and 20 per cent, including the chairman, laymen.

"If it should turn out, which I hope won't be the case, that the press is not willing to take this step," Morrison said, "then the government and Parliament will have to reconsider the situation which would thereby be created."

The freighter struck an underwater obstruction as she fought waves driving her toward a breakwater. She began taking on water, but managed to proceed five miles before she ran aground.

The crew of 31 was not believed in danger unless the vessel should capsize suddenly.

Riot In Sydney As Strike Situation Nearing Climax
SYDNEY (CP)—Communist-led extremists today clashed with moderates and police in Sydney and Melbourne as Australia's strike situation came to a boil.

Earlier, troops equipped with rifles and sub-machine-guns and loaded with live ammunition had moved into New South Wales open-cast coal mines.

In Melbourne, 400 striking seamen and Communists marched on Parliament House. Police drove them back from the steps of the building.

The seamen were protesting the action of the Victoria cabinet in declaring a state of emergency in that state. They also demanded that striking miners' claims be granted.

In Sydney, supporters of rival Labor Party and Communist meetings clashed outside a gas works. Some Red supporters were roughed up before police arrived.

At Lithgow, north of Sydney, 100 miners defied a police ban and marched on a coal dump. They demonstrated against non-union men who were removing coal mined before the strike began.

TO TAKE VOTE
The Coal Mining Union's council decided Wednesday to call mass meetings of miners probably next Monday to take a new vote on the mine strike. Many observers believe the miners will decide to return to work.

Australia's 23,000 miners went on strike for higher wages and shorter hours last June 27.

$2,000,000 Job On Post Office To Start Monday
Demolition of buildings at Yates and Government to make way for erection of the new $2,000,000 post office will start Monday, N. B. Lambert, president of Northern Construction Co. and J. W. Stewart Ltd., said today.

"We have just concluded arrangements and plan to start demolition which will take about two months," Mr. Lambert said.

There will be 20 to 25 men on this phase of the job.

City building officials are momentarily expecting the $2,000,000 permit to be taken out. Northern Construction are handling the entire contract which was awarded them earlier this month.

"We plan to start new construction in about three months, as soon as demolition and excavation work has been done," Mr. Lambert said.

The building, which will be a modern, five story structure, is expected to be under construction for at least 18 months.

The project was approved in 1939, but postponed owing to the war.

C.I.O. Steelworkers Ask Package Boost Of 30c
NEW YORK (AP)—President Philip Murray of the United Steelworkers (C.I.O.) announced today his union wants a package increase of 30 cents an hour in the current dispute with the steel companies, including a fourth-round wage increase of 12½ cents.

Murray revealed the demands for the first time at the opening session of the fact-finding board appointed by President Truman to avert a strike in the dispute. The demands also include 11.23 cents an hour for pensions and 6.27 cents an hour for social insurance.

The union says the current average basic wage rate of steel workers is $1.65 an hour. In the previous three rounds of post-war wage increases, the union got 18½ in 1946, 15 cents in 1947, and 13 cents in 1948. The figures for the last two years include some fringe benefits.

As the hearing opened, the fact-finding board ruled it would consider evidence on pensions for steel workers along with the two other issues at stake.

Pessimism prevailed generally that a downward slide caused by Britain's critical shortage of dollars and its seething labor unrest would continue.

War loan bonds issued in 1939 at a par of £100 ($400) slid 10s ($2) at the opening of business to 97½. The previous low was 98s when the British army was evacuating Dunkerque.

The appearance of a government broker on the stock exchange floor at midday had a steady effect on the sellers. Lunchtime prices were virtually the same as Wednesday's closing levels.

The broker, in his traditional high silk hat, frock coat and striped trousers, bought heavily. There was no way of learning whether he was buying on behalf of the government or of private investors. But there was general belief the government was pumping funds into the market to back its own securities.

A steady stream of purchases by small investors also helped bulwark the market.

There are several "government brokers." They buy for the Bank of England, but they have other clients as well. Thus the stock exchange was unable to tell for sure today whose money was providing the prop for the government bond prices.

There was no panic evident in the transactions. Close watches on the stock exchange said "there is only determined selling to convert paper assets into cash."

Financial writers in London newspapers wrote in grim terms of the market plunge.

Chinese Reds Capture New Slices Of Hunan Province
CANTON (AP)—Chinese Communist troops seized new areas of Hunan province today. The Nationalists conceded the Communists were astride the Canton-Hankow railroad between Changsha and Hengyang.

An official dispatch acknowledged loss of Chuchow, 25 miles south of Changsha, capital of Hunan and a central China strongpoint. In taking the rail town, the Reds not only severed Nationalist communications between Changsha and Hengyang but gained control of the entire Chelung railroad.

Chuchow is the junction of the two railroads 315 miles north of the refugee Nationalist headquarters in Canton—which the Communist high command has ordered captured by Aug. 15.

Nationalists also had news from the Kiangsi front east of Hunan.

Dispatches reported loss of the river town of Taiho, 270 miles northeast of Canton. From there the Reds struck southward towards Kanhien, provisional capital of Kiangsi.

FROM YANGTZE BASES
The Reds jabbed deeper into northern Hunan from Yangtze River bases. Their vanguards were reported less than 10 miles from Changshih, 100 miles northwest of Changsha.

Chinese press reports said Sun Li-jen, one of China's best generals, is to be appointed head of the Nationalist defence headquarters on the island of Formosa. Sun commanded the American-trained and equipped new first army in Burma in the Second World War. Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek set up his new base on Formosa some time ago.

Canadians May Be Brought From China
OTTAWA (CP)—Canada's strained relations with the Communist government in China may engender a reduction in the Canadian embassy staff at Nanking, it was learned today. Steps also may be taken, in consultation with the United States, to evacuate from Communist territory some of the 800 Canadians, U.S. citizens and others who decided to remain behind when evacuation plans were made some time ago.

Of 800 Canadians residing in the war-torn country, about 300 have been evacuated. Some 250 are believed to be still in the Communist-held area of northern China.

Riot In Sydney As Strike Situation Nearing Climax
SYDNEY (CP)—Communist-led extremists today clashed with moderates and police in Sydney and Melbourne as Australia's strike situation came to a boil.

Earlier, troops equipped with rifles and sub-machine-guns and loaded with live ammunition had moved into New South Wales open-cast coal mines.

In Melbourne, 400 striking seamen and Communists marched on Parliament House. Police drove them back from the steps of the building.

The seamen were protesting the action of the Victoria cabinet in declaring a state of emergency in that state. They also demanded that striking miners' claims be granted.

In Sydney, supporters of rival Labor Party and Communist meetings clashed outside a gas works. Some Red supporters were roughed up before police arrived.

At Lithgow, north of Sydney, 100 miners defied a police ban and marched on a coal dump. They demonstrated against non-union men who were removing coal mined before the strike began.

TO TAKE VOTE
The Coal Mining Union's council decided Wednesday to call mass meetings of miners probably next Monday to take a new vote on the mine strike. Many observers believe the miners will decide to return to work.

Australia's 23,000 miners went on strike for higher wages and shorter hours last June 27.

$2,000,000 Job On Post Office To Start Monday
Demolition of buildings at Yates and Government to make way for erection of the new $2,000,000 post office will start Monday, N. B. Lambert, president of Northern Construction Co. and J. W. Stewart Ltd., said today.

"We have just concluded arrangements and plan to start demolition which will take about two months," Mr. Lambert said.

There will be 20 to 25 men on this phase of the job.

City building officials are momentarily expecting the $2,000,000 permit to be taken out. Northern Construction are handling the entire contract which was awarded them earlier this month.

"We plan to start new construction in about three months, as soon as demolition and excavation work has been done," Mr. Lambert said.

The building, which will be a modern, five story structure, is expected to be under construction for at least 18 months.

The project was approved in 1939, but postponed owing to the war.

C.I.O. Steelworkers Ask Package Boost Of 30c
NEW YORK (AP)—President Philip Murray of the United Steelworkers (C.I.O.) announced today his union wants a package increase of 30 cents an hour in the current dispute with the steel companies, including a fourth-round wage increase of 12½ cents.

Murray revealed the demands for the first time at the opening session of the fact-finding board appointed by President Truman to avert a strike in the dispute. The demands also include 11.23 cents an hour for pensions and 6.27 cents an hour for social insurance.

The union says the current average basic wage rate of steel workers is $1.65 an hour. In the previous three rounds of post-war wage increases, the union got 18½ in 1946, 15 cents in 1947, and 13 cents in 1948. The figures for the last two years include some fringe benefits.

As the hearing opened, the fact-finding board ruled it would consider evidence on pensions for steel workers along with the two other issues at stake.

Winds Of Gale Force Wreak Havoc Around Three Rivers
THREE RIVERS, Que. (UP)—This city and the surrounding district were a shambles today after a freak storm and gale force winds which ripped roofs from buildings and uprooted trees Wednesday night.

Police said there were no casualties.

Hydro and telegraph workers worked for hours to restore communications after the sudden storm which tangled wiring and pulled down poles. The area was blacked-out temporarily as a result, but lighting was back to normal today after emergency squads had worked through the night by flashlight and in the glare of car and truck headlights.

Some 50 bathers, seeking refuge from the summer heat wave in a public swimming pool, had close brushes with death or serious injury when an exhibition ground structure toppled into the pool, blown there by a wind that reached 75 miles an hour.

Coal-Laden Vessel On Lake Michigan Aground; In Danger
MUSKEGON, Mich. (AP)—A coal-laden freighter, damaged early today by heavy seas, was in danger of capsizing in Lake Michigan.

Auxiliary pumps were rushed out to the 510-foot vessel, the Norman J. Koppmeier. She was aground in shallow water with 8,400 tons of coal on board, listing heavily to port.

The freighter struck an underwater obstruction as she fought waves driving her toward a breakwater. She began taking on water, but managed to proceed five miles before she ran aground.

The crew of 31 was not believed in danger unless the vessel should capsize suddenly.

Plan For Strike
LONDON (AP)—The National Union of Railwaymen cleared the decks today for a strike 21 days from now on the nationalized railroads.

The union decided to serve the ministry of labor with a formal notice that a dispute exists over claims of 460,000 workers for higher pay. Under British law, this is a necessary preliminary for a strike on the railroads.

Off To Guiana
VANCOUVER (CP)—Four Vancouver men will leave by plane tomorrow on a 5,500-mile flight to British Guiana, where they will make a 4,000-square-mile survey of that country's topography and featured landscape. The trip will take two months.

Call Off Censors
BERLIN (AP)—East German radio employees today said the Russians had dropped their direct censorship of broadcasts from radio stations in their zone and Berlin. There are eight radio stations in the Russian zone.

Scattered Showers
REGINA (CP)—Occasional rain occurred today over generally cloudy Saskatchewan. Not much change was expected from the low 45 and high 75 temperatures which have been constant here.

British Bonds Hit Lowest Price Since Dark War Days
LONDON (AP)—British government bonds today plummeted to their lowest prices since the darkest days of the Second World War.

In the fourth day of a snow-balling slump, a flurry of selling at the opening of the London Stock Exchange knocked fractions, and even whole points, off most government shares.

There was a rally an hour later, when bargain hunters moved in to make small investments at the lower prices. But brokers regarded it as only temporary.

Pessimism prevailed generally that a downward slide caused by Britain's critical shortage of dollars and its seething labor unrest would continue.

War loan bonds issued in 1939 at a par of £100 ($400) slid 10s ($2) at the opening of business to 97½. The previous low was 98s when the British army was evacuating Dunkerque.

MIXED MARRIAGES

THIS BEING the season of the year when the thoughts to which a young man's fancy lightly turns in spring find their culmination in summer weddings, it may be timely to tarry for a moment on the subject of some marriages which have taken on an international interest.

For some of them have not only given the families concerned a headache, but have caused the United Nations itself a headache of international proportions.

Take, for instance, the problem which has bedeviled that august body by the Soviet Union's refusal to allow Russian wives of other nationals to join their husbands. There have been several cases where British husbands have appealed to the Assembly on this issue, but without avail, in the face of the U.S.S.R. attitude.

WIVES BY FORCE

IT ISN'T long since the U.N. trusteeship council had to call to task the much-married Fon of the Bikom tribe in the British Cameroons, when that African potentate was accused of taking wives by force.

And recent indications suggest that this council may now be drawn into the inter-facial marital problem which has stirred both Britain and the Bamangwatos of Bechuanaland, southwest Africa.

This tribe which has long enjoyed a reputation for progressive rulership and has exercised a stable, progressive influence among the other tribes in that part of Africa, has been split asunder by the marriage of its chief-designate to a white girl.

OXFORD STUDENT

SERETSE KHAMA, the 27-year-old chief-designate of the Bamangwatos, met and married a London typist, 24-year-old Ruth Williams, while he was a student at Oxford last September. Her family did not approve of the marriage.

But neither did the family of Seretse, grandson of Khama the Great, who also was an Oxford graduate. And when the bridegroom made known his intention of taking his bride to Africa to share the throne which he is to assume next year, the Bamangwato tribesmen decided he must give her up, as he had broken a tribal tradition against mixed marriages.

This Seretse refused to do. But after a four days' tribal parley at Serowe, which he attended, about 8,000 of the tribesmen agreed to accept her, while about forty chiefs held out against her. Outside of those at the parley, however, there are about 200,000 Bamangwatos who are not favorably disposed toward the white bride.

COMPLICATIONS AHEAD

SO IT LOOKS as if this division might lead to international complications, particularly as the South African Union has passed a law forbidding mixed marriages. On the other hand, the United Nations stands for "freedom of choice" in marriage, which further complicates matters.

However, aside from all that there is the human problem which crops up in any international marriage between people of different backgrounds and traditions. It may be that the London typist had been reading Rider Haggard's "She" and saw herself in the romantic role of a modern "She-Who-Must-Be-Obeyed."

HARD ON ROMANCE

BUT EVEN with an Oxford-educated chief as husband, I doubt if she will find very much romance in living among about 30,000 native inhabitants of a "village" of sprawling, primitive mud huts, minus plumbing, gas, electricity, movies and good roads, set down in the heart of the African bush.

It will also take a lot of romance to offset the shocks that London-bred girl is destined to receive in having to accept tribal beliefs and customs, to offset the pain and humiliation of finding her children branded as half-castes, and herself ostracized by her own and her people's race.

And not even the United Nations can spare her from those heartbreaks, which are a pretty big price to pay for romance, it seems to me.

Calls Meeting On B.C. School Costs

A special committee from the Union of B.C. Municipalities, B.C. School Trustees' Association and the B.C. Teachers' Federation named to study school costs with a view to submitting a brief to the provincial cabinet, will meet in Vancouver Aug. 4. Mayor Percy George, president of the U.B.C.M., who is chairman of the committee, called the meeting to study views of the three organizations in preparation of the brief to the cabinet.

A lacerated chin, bruises and shock were suffered by Gordon Webster, 21, of Delmonte Avenue, Royal Oak, Wednesday night when the motorcycle he was riding was in collision with a car driven by T. D. James, 537 Townsite Road, at Johnson and Quadra Streets, city police reported. Webster was thrown from the bike by the impact. He was taken to St. Joseph's Hospital for treatment.

Local Kit Makes Good

The Victoria kitten which went to France is now nearly a cat. And is doing very well, thank you.

This is the news passed along from Madame Marguerite Duflet, 1515 Douglas Street, original owner of the kitten.

Rin Tin Tin, as the cat is called, left this city in the middle of May. It traveled to France aboard the Quinette de Rochemont II, a lighthouse tender built at Yarrow for the French Supply Council.

The trip took a month, during which time Rin Tin Tin was a pet of the British sailors who manned the vessel on her maiden voyage. The kitten turned out to be a good seaman itself and had the run of the ship.

Following completion of the voyage, the kitten was taken to the home of Pierre Andre, chief engineer of the French Supply Council, who was given the animal while in this city during construction of the lighthouse tenders.

Mr. Andre lives in Brest and it is there that Rin Tin Tin is now living.

In a letter received this week from the Andre family, Madame Duflet is informed that the cat is well and happy, the idol of the Andre's five children.

The youngest of the five, who is just turned one, is so impressed with the cat, the letter says, that every living thing she sees is labeled "Tin Tin."

New Issues Raised By Britain's Larger Dollar Aid Request

LONDON (Reuter) — Britain's warning that her dollar deficit in 1949-50 will be greater than expected met with a mixed reception in the press today, though most agreed the news was no surprise.

The Independent Times of London warns that "this drastic revision naturally raised some important issues."

The paper says it must be asked what hope there is of obtaining the agreement of the other European countries participating in the Organization for European Economic Co-operation to the increased share of Marshall aid which Britain was implicitly seeking; whether in any case anything like $1,518,000,000 could possibly be obtained; and whether the probable amount of aid could be sufficient to safeguard the sterling area's dollar position for another year.

British treasury officials Wednesday night announced the latest dollar deficit estimate for 1949-50 is $1,518,000,000. This figure, $404,000,000 more than was estimated three months ago, was sent to O.E.E.C. headquarters in Paris.

Saying that U.S. public opinion had been led to expect the four years of the Marshall Plan would see Europe able to dispense with dollar aid by the middle of 1952, the Times warns that "the risk of disillusionment must not be lightly weighed."

Life Imprisonment For Attacking Girl

WINNIPEG (CP) — Henry George Saunders, 26-year-old laborer charged with a criminal attack on a 12-year-old girl, today was sentenced to life imprisonment.

The sentence was the first of its kind imposed by a police magistrate in Winnipeg's history. Saunders pleaded guilty before Magistrate M. H. Garton to a charge of carnal knowledge of the 12-year-old, and attempting the same offence with an 11-year-old.

Both girls were taken to hospital July 10 following the attack, the older girl requiring several weeks' attention. The girls were severely beaten within three hours of each other.

Defence Counsel C. N. Kushner had suggested an indeterminate sentence, to end only with a complete psychiatric cure of the accused.

However, he was opposed by Crown Prosecutor O. M. M. Kay, who maintained the accused must be declared a "criminal sexual psychopath" by two psychiatrists, at least one of whom had to be approved by the Minister of Justice under a 1948 amendment to the Canadian Criminal Code.

WORSE TO COME?

ALTHOUGH WESTERN PROBLEMS have stolen the main headlines during the past few days, the war in China still continues on a vast scale, with Communist armies plunging ever southward and deeper into the central part of the country. An estimated 400,000 to 500,000 troops of Mao Tse Tung's forces are engaged, with orders to capture the refugee Nationalist Government capital of Canton before Aug. 15. And while Government military leaders repeat their assurances that they are awaiting "the best time and place" to deal the Communist forces a death blow, there can be little doubt that the critical military phase of the war is over.

Whether or not the Communists will have equal success in applying their policies to the great mass of China's population is another question. The general fatigue of a country that has not enjoyed domestic peace for 20 years or more, the political apathy of millions whose entire energy is employed in wresting a living from a worn-out land, the natural tolerance of a new regime that will be displayed by many who have little for which to thank the government of Chiang Kai-shek—these are factors that will prove favorable to acceptance of such legislative and administrative changes as the Communists may inaugurate.

With most western observers inclined to write off the Chinese revolution as almost completed, there is considerable speculation as to whether the Communists of that country will be content to apply their efforts to straightening out Chinese affairs—a formidable enough problem in itself—or whether they will utilize their new southern contacts immediately to further Communist activities in the neighboring lands—Indo-China, Burma, and even India, to be specific. Communization of China will itself provide a severe shock to the international balance of the "cold war," but large-scale encouragement of Red activities in the already delicate circumstances of southeast Asia would add a problem of even greater urgency. The difficulties experienced by the West in trying to form an adequate eastern policy in the face of such a situation further emphasize the critical point to which Chinese developments are leading the world. It may yet be that we shall look back on these times as "the good old days" of peace and quiet, turbulent though they have been.

MAJ.-GEN. R. O. ALEXANDER

THE DEATH OF MAJ.-GEN. R. O. ALEXANDER, C.B., D.S.O., will mark for thousands who knew him personally or served under him officially the loss of a respected gentleman and a distinguished soldier. Residents of this area will recall him as head of military defenses on the Pacific Coast during the threatening days of October, 1940, to June, 1942. It was in that period that the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor occurred, and the British Columbia shore had its first taste of blackouts and other serious defensive preparations. Much of the credit for the efficient measures taken in those days must go to Gen. Alexander, who, as General Officer Commanding, and later supreme commander of west coast defenses, was responsible for local security.

But while his military career was pursued with marked enthusiasm and ability for 41 of his 61 years, he did not forget the importance of civil rehabilitation for the men whom he commanded. He was an advocate of vocational training for servicemen and never failed in any opportunity to further their interests. Canada has lost a very worthy citizen.

NOT TO BE CAUGHT NAPPING

THAT ASSOCIATED PRESS DISPATCH from Washington yesterday which intimated that the United States Air Force is interested in the establishment of air bases somewhere in the Arctic region is both interesting and of vital importance to Canada. We say importance to Canada because in the event of another conflict—between the giants of two diametrically opposite ideologies, namely, the United States and the Soviet Union—Canada might be squeezed, as the Low Countries were early in 1940.

Mr. Truman already has signified his interest in Canada and the part this Dominion is now playing and will have to play in future if the North Atlantic Pact is to be given its full force and effect as a defensive measure against the invasion of those ideologies which threaten and, obviously, will continue to threaten the way of life to which we in this country have become accustomed, and to which we are determined to give our support.

It is not for the layman to discuss the technical details inherent in the policy of the United States Air Force to establish "forward air bases deep in the Arctic." But we, in this country, are definitely concerned about, and interested in, such technical matters in regard to modern warfare which envision an operative program under whose dispensation and practical operation it would be possible for, say, a huge fleet of bombing machines to meet aggression as soon as aggression manifested itself.

All sensible people who understand and have realized the horrible consequences of global war should be counted upon to use their influence and intelligence in their efforts to persuade their respective governments to shape their policies that future conflicts of arms will become impossible. This simple and straightforward thesis, of course, implies that adult persons in every land should give at least some part of their day to sound thinking about existing conditions, likewise, what conditions may be in the foreseeable future if the conduct of global affairs is left to that relatively small element of so-called statesmen whose record is nothing of which humanity feels proud. We exclude from this judgment those men and women in the service of the public who have done their best in the interests of all the people all the time. But, unfortunately, these are the citizens of the free democracies who try to do their job—wearing, incidentally, the label of "politicians." And those voters and taxpayers, and citizens generally, who refer flippantly to the "politician" are very often the voters who fail to exercise their dearly-won franchise.

While this general digression is not directly associated with the dispatch from Washington to which we alluded at the outset, we submit that it carries with it an exhortation to all and sundry, not only to bestir themselves in their own interests, but also to take a look at the map and understand where Canada stands in the geographical sense as emphasized by plans that obviously are maturing in the national capital of our neighbor on the southern side of the 49th parallel.

WORDS AND DEEDS

THE GOVERNMENTAL FORUMS OF North America rarely witness debate which becomes so hot that it generates a bout of fistfights. It is true that an occasional scuffle is thrown—even the austere walls of the British House of Commons have, on occasion, echoed to the sound of a right to the jaw—but they are momentary affairs, often without physical retaliation, and he who lost his temper is felt also to have lost prestige among his fellow legislators.

It appears to be otherwise in the deliberative chambers of more effervescent nations. Although Gallic courtesy and Italian suavity have become by-words, these qualities do not seem to be sufficient to restrain government delegates in the heat of discussion. The news columns not infrequently carry stories of general meetings on the floor of the meeting chambers or in the lobbies, from which numerous black eyes, bloody noses and broken spectacles result. The Atlantic Pact debate in the French National Assembly was productive of such an outbreak, as recorded in yesterday's news columns. A short time earlier it was the Italian Chamber of Deputies that staged a similar scene as part of a discussion on the same topic.

There is no indication that such activities have any appreciable effect on the ensuing votes or proceedings of the parliamentary bodies. But no doubt they may serve to relieve tense feelings—where they do not engender even greater emotional strains. These displays may be seen as the inevitable product of the European postwar situation. Since fear and hope, hunger and satisfaction, despair and courage, have alternated so quickly as dominating factors in the lives of the people during these unsettled years, it is perhaps no wonder that human nerves from time to time demand the relief of personal violence.

NOT FORGOTTEN

THAT ADAGE ABOUT CASTING ONE'S bread upon the waters has proven true on an international scale. On a stormy February night seven years ago, two United States destroyers, the Polux and Truxton, were swept ashore near Lawrence, on the rocky south coast of Newfoundland, and demolished. The courage of the local residents, who went over the 100-foot cliffs on ropes to rescue 600 of the officers and men, has never been forgotten. And now a suggestion that originally was made by the late President Roosevelt will be carried out. The gratitude of the United States will be expressed in the form of a modern $275,000 hospital, to be built by the Navy for the 600 inhabitants of the mining community. The virtues of the Good Samaritan, with added courage of a very high order, have had their reward, and another firm bond has been forged between the northern and southern halves of the continent.

INVASION BY INVITATION

IT IS AN INTERESTING—AND PER- haps instructive—fact of the British character that 1,500 years after the event the people of the United Kingdom can take time off to celebrate a defeat. Today, to commemorate the Danish invasion of 449 A.D., Britons were hosts to a boat-load of modern "invaders" from Denmark, who rowed and sailed their 15-ton Viking ship to the English coast to re-enact the historic landing. Although it would have been small comfort to the seacoast residents of the island who bore the brunt of those early aggressions, such Danes and their culture as succeeded in remaining in the new land have long since been assimilated in the national fabric for its strengthening and betterment. The present ceremonies will stress the friendship of today rather than the battles of yesterday, proof that past differences need not lead to traditional hatreds such as mar the relationships of certain other nations.

Walter Lippmann

PREFACE TO MILITARY AID

AS WE PREPARE to discuss military aid, we may say, I think, that our first and most important problem is to decide between two kinds of commitments. The first is what territory the United States shall commit itself to defend. The second is what territory it shall only guarantee against aggression.

Both kinds of commitment are back by the determination to wage war against an aggressor. But the difference between them is of great practical and strategic importance. Thus, if Panama were attacked, the U.S. would make a serious stand in the Canal Zone and would also fight a general war. But if West Berlin, which is covered by the Atlantic Pact, were attacked, there would be only a token defence in Berlin as Americans mobilized to fight a general war. In Panama they are committed to a guarantee plus a pledge to defend. In West Berlin they are committed to a guarantee without that pledge.

IN MEETING its obligations under the Atlantic Pact, the United States must decide what it will treat like Panama and what like West Berlin. These are hard decisions. But in the conduct of a great coalition they are unavoidable.

Ideally, of course, it would be advisable to give every country not only a guarantee against aggression but a reliable defence against invasion. At times, when American rhetoric has been exuberant, it has seemed to be telling the world that the U.S. meant to create local defences everywhere to "contain" the Soviets at every point where they might move in. But as a matter of fact, it is quite impossible to do that.

IF IT WERE attempted, seriously, it would mean that immense forces had been committed all around the periphery of the Soviet Union—from Japan and China through southeast Asia and the Middle East to the Balkans, Germany and Scandinavia. This would be a method of strategic suicide. For while the United States was committing its resources all around the borderland, the Russians would retain their whole army as a mass of manoeuvre. The U.S., on the other hand, would have its forces earmarked for local defence, frozen, dispersed and largely useless. By undertaking to defend too much territory, it would have impaired fatally the effectiveness of its guarantee to go to war if any country becomes the victim of military aggression.

WE MUST not think, therefore, that the allocation of military aid is like the allocation of Marshall aid. In theory at least, America has tried to allocate enough dollars to each country to make it possible for that particular country, by self help and mutual aid, to become financially solvent.

But in allocating military aid, every country cannot be made solvent, that is to say impregnable in a military sense. To many countries Americans can give only the guarantee they give, for example, to West Berlin—that they would go to war if it were attacked. It is impossible to give them the kind of guarantee which is given to Alaska, Hawaii or the Canal Zone.

HOW, IF the United States must distinguish between the general guarantee and local defence, shall it determine specifically where to allocate military aid? The working principle should be, it seems to me, that it undertake to defend by building up local military power those countries which can contribute the most to American power to make good the general guarantee to all countries. It should supply the greater part of its military aid to those countries which can, when armed, themselves become guarantors against aggression.

MANIFESTLY, WITHIN the Atlantic Alliance. Great Britain and France are pre-eminent in meeting this test. Military aid to them, if properly used, can become a genuine military investment. That is to say, it can show a strategic profit in case of war. But to dole out weapons to countries which could not defend themselves even if they had them would be to weaken the total power of the alliance. For the weapons doled out would be subtracted from the other forces available.

THE TRUE TEST, therefore, is not whether a country "needs" arms. All countries feel they need them. The test is what use that country can be counted upon to make of the arms to back up the general guarantee. For we must remember that the guarantee covers much more territory than is included within the North Atlantic area—for example, the Philippines and Turkey. And on the other hand, not every foot of territory within that area can be covered by a pledge of local defence—for example West Berlin and even Western Germany. We can never, therefore, afford to lose sight of the paramount principle that the purpose of arming the alliance is to support the general guarantee against aggression.

Quoting

I hope we have got through the so-called "cold war" and that we are entering a period that can be characterized as the period of the "cold peace."—UN Secretary General Trygve Lie.

We hear a great deal about hysteria in the United States today. But hysteria here is not one-hundredth of what exists behind the Iron Curtain, in Russia.—George V. Allen, assistant secretary of state for public affairs.

Shrinking Umbrella

Too Many White Collars?

From The Montreal Gazette

"THE rising generation and their parents are becoming so respectable they don't want to dirty themselves. Every father wants to send his son to college and to keep him as far away as possible from overalls.

WHAT ANSWER?

"I don't know what the answer is. Parents are conditioning their children this way. We must bring our parents down to earth. There still is a lot of pioneer work to be done in this country, but it can only be done with a pick and shovel, with grime and sweat and rolled-up sleeves and much initiative. And in doing it ourselves we will be so much the better nation."

The foregoing quotation is not taken from the address of an exasperated industrial executive, harassed by labor troubles, and letting off steam. The words are those of Pat Conroy, secretary-treasurer of the Canadian Congress of Labor, speaking recently before the International Association of Public Employment Services.

Mr. Conroy has placed his finger upon a developing sore spot. Throughout a great continent in which practically everything worthwhile is associated with the names of men who knew real physical toil and were often without much formal education, people are not only shrinking from such toil but are inclined to hold it in contempt by word and deed.

Perhaps this continent has listened too readily to criticism from abroad as to our lack of culture. It looks as though we might have done better at times to have kept more clearly in mind the sort of men and the nature of their effort which made North American countries great, and developed a culture of our own along those lines.

FALSE PRIDE

Mr. Conroy does not have the answer to all this. Who has? But certainly the hope of the world seems to rest upon this continent at the present time. False pride and phony values are poor equipment if we are to measure up to that great responsibility, and soon there must be a reorientation of thinking or we, too, shall be in the whirlpool. The labor man's words have been widely noted and if they serve as an urge to such a reform of thought, he has done well in saying them.

Freedom Is The Prize

By BRUCE BLOSSAT, From Washington

THE CATHOLIC CHURCH and totalitarian communism are locked in bitter struggle throughout the world. The chief battleground right now is eastern Europe. But why should a religious organization be fighting the advocates of a political and economic system?

DESTROYS RELIGION

The answer is that communism, like any totalitarianism, cannot limit itself to the purely practical realm. It fans out into the spiritual sphere and seeks to supplant or destroy the regular religious authority.

Catholic leaders therefore see their historic guardianship over the spiritual life of millions of Europeans—not to mention others—threatened with extinction.

The Vatican has tried for a long time to arrive at an ideological truce that would allow Catholicism and communism to live side by side. But the Minszentny affair in Hungary and the current attacks on high churchmen in Czechoslovakia convinced the Pope an accord is impossible.

These events led to a papal decree ordering excommunication for all Catholics who join or support the Communist Party anywhere. It is the heaviest weapon the church has ever brought into play against a totalitarian system.

Why do Communists in the predominantly Catholic European countries feel it necessary to engage so stubborn a foe?

STATE ONLY

The answer is, of course, that a dictatorship like communism can brook no opposition whatsoever. It demands one single overriding loyalty—to the state. Ties of allegiance to church, union, social organization, all these must be severed.

For any one of these minor loyalties could serve as a rallying point for opposition to the regime, a nucleus for the forces of rebellion.

Above all, Communists are bent upon maintaining themselves in power wherever they enjoy it. What is more sensible, then, than to keep the people in a great shapeless, helpless mass? Revolt takes organization as well as weapons.

It should be evident immediately that the Catholic Church is the toughest possible centre of resistance to communism in eastern Europe. Because it has many millions of followers, Catholicism wields a power far beyond its mere spiritual guidance in one country or another.

STILL HOPE

That fact is all we need to remember as we watch the Communists work relentlessly to crush this force in Russia's European satellites.

For the sake of Europe's Catholics and all free-worshipping men everywhere, let us hope the Communists somehow fail to marshal the strength they need to achieve full success in this effort.

Doers Or Watchers?

"WE are fast becoming a nation of watchers and listeners, with too much to see and hear and not enough to do," declares T. E. Murphy in "The Reader's Digest for August." "A process that began four decades ago is reaching its logical conclusion with the advent of television.

"We watch other men fight, make love, play baseball or football, even attend religious services. We listen avidly to a dreary procession of stale jokes and songs. Because of such diversions we are giving up a good part of our heritage and robbing our children of the great classics of childhood. Huck Finn, Tom Sawyer and Treasure Island are supplanted by the Lone Ranger and Gorgeous George."

Urging more doing and less watching, Murphy says he would rather kiss a pretty girl himself than watch one kissed on the screen; rather bat a ball to a bunch of kids than watch Di Maggio hit a homer.

CREATIVE INSTINCT

The hallmark distinguishing man from beast is man's creative instinct, the author contends. "It is one of the anomalies of our civilization that the most intensive efforts to satisfy man's creative needs are made in mental hospitals."

Creative expression need not be confined to "making" something. Social or civic service, participation in sports with one's children are positive activities of the doers, by contrast to the negative diversion of the listeners and watchers. The difference, Murphy says, is that which distinguishes man from the intelligent, creative creature from man the "village idiot."

A Montreal composer-violinist will be laughed at for asserting that Canada can best improve her export trade by selling her music to the world, but there may be a grain of truth in what the man says.

Europeans, particularly, are inclined to judge the quality of a nation's goods by the degree of culture it has attained, and they measure this culture by the prominence in music, literature and the like achieved by that country.

Associated Press News Analyst

PREMIER Antonio De Oliveira Salazar of Portugal advised his National Assembly Tuesday that under present conditions Russia could, if she wanted to, "carry her armies in a smashing march as far as the English Channel and the Pyrenees."

During his 20 years of dictatorship the 60-year-old Salazar has established the reputation of being one of the world's most astute rulers. Therefore when he makes a public statement, which he rarely does, he merits attention.

Of course he was putting pressure on his Legislature to ratify the Atlantic Pact (which it did yesterday by a vote of 80 to 3). But the fact in itself needn't detract from the validity of his estimate.

The Premier might have added, I believe, that while Russia may be capable of such a drive, she isn't likely to undertake it as things now stand. Still it's an uncomfortable fact that from the military standpoint she might be able to achieve it.

A-DETERRENT

She might, but there is a powerful deterrent in the way of any such attempt, and it is this: Russia is encountering grave resistance to her domination of eastern Europe from the peoples of the various satellite countries. President Truman called attention to this in blunt language during his Chicago speech the other day. He said that within its inner circle the Soviet orbit "manifests the fatal weakness of all dictatorships," and he continued:

"Within the circle of its control today, tensions and conflicts appear to be increasing. It may have temporary triumphs, but in the long run it must either destroy itself, or abandon its attempt to force other nations into its pattern."

Well now, with all this being true, is Moscow likely to launch any military drive to overrun western Europe? Such an offensive would be a wide-open invitation to disoriented satellites to rise and strike for liberty. It would only be undertaken as an act of desperation.

The extent to which the deal between Mr. Drew and Mr. Duplessis contributed to the defeat of the Conservative party is becoming more and more evident. The Financial Post, in the current number, publishes a survey of opinion among Canadian newspapermen as to "Why the poor showing of the Conservative party?" Twenty-three replies to this question are printed, reflecting the views of newspapermen in every province (including Newfoundland) except Nova Scotia.

The most common factor in all these opinions is the Drew-Duplessis tie-up. In the west, the attitude of Mr. Drew on Dominion-provincial relations is also given as a major cause of the failure of the Conservative party.

VANITY ON FILM

Ottawa Citizen
A new camera which has been developed in the United States that may afford humanity an opportunity to eat its cake and have it too. This shutter can move faster than light. As a result, when the shutter moves, the film is not exposed, and no picture is taken.

Only too often a person, particularly at a picnic, will demand to have his picture taken when it is only too obvious that a photograph of this particular individual could serve no useful purpose. This is where the camera with the super-speed shutter comes in. The machine is aimed, the button clicked, and everyone is happy. The photographer has not wasted film, and the subject thinks his picture has been taken. After some weeks of stalling, during which he is told the film has not yet been developed, the man photographed forgets the whole thing and the affair is brought to a conclusion satisfactory to all. There are many who will hope the new shutter will be marketed soon.

Former D.P. Dies In Heroic Act To Avert Mine Blast

VAL D'OR, Que. (BUP)—The name of Watsik Koltan was hailed as that of a hero today in Val d'Or by men who normally shrug off heroism as part of the day's work.

Koltan, 28-year-old former displaced person, was killed Wednesday while carrying away a charge of explosive in a selfless bid to save his fellow gold miners from being blasted to death.

Ten of them escaped with what doctors classed as minor injuries. An eleven, Maurice Boucher, 29, was crushed to death in a rock slide that came a few moments before the TNT blew up in Koltan's arms.

The former D.P., who knew little English or French and often used gestures to make himself understood in the country that had given him refuge, arrived here recently from Europe.

Officials of the East Sullivan Gold Mining Company at nearby Bourlamaque, scene of the accident, said Koltan and Boucher had entered the mine with a dynamite charge. They planned to blast away an obstructing piece of rock.

Boucher lighted the fuse. Moments later he was crushed under a rockslide. Koltan grabbed several sticks of the explosive and with the fuse still sizzling ran away with them toward a spot where the blast would not endanger other men working on the low level. He was blown to pieces.

NEW BUS LOOP—Runnymede Avenue is being extended westward from Foul Bay Road to connect with Cowichan Street and Quamichan Avenue to make a loop for Gonzales buses. Work is being speeded with giant bulldozer of Copley Bros., being driven by Bob Brown. City officials say new road, which will open up 15 to 20 residential lots, should be completed in 10 days. It is planned later to further extend Runnymede through Pemberton Woods to Gonzales Avenue.

Edmonton, Calgary Staging Squabble Over Oil Capital

EDMONTON (CP)—It's a good thing Edmonton and Calgary are 180 miles apart or who knows what the long distance squabble over which city is Canada's oil capital might develop into.

Never on the best of terms, the two cities have been eyeing each other more askance every day since oil was discovered almost inside Edmonton's city limits.

Calgary, whose Turner Valley fields were the first oil fields to be developed in Alberta, fired the first gun of the current dispute in a letter to the Regina Chamber of Commerce.

The Regina chamber wanted to know whether Calgary or Edmonton could be considered Alberta's oil capital. In a letter, the Calgary chamber's secretary, Eric McGreer, promptly claimed the honor.

He said that headquarters of most of the oil companies and the stock exchange are located in the foothills city. In addition, he said, a 16-story $3,000,000 oil centre building will be built in Calgary shortly.

Edmonton Chamber of Commerce men and civic officials had no sooner read reports of Mr. McGreer's statements than their hackles rose. They loudly denied Calgary's claim.

Executive secretary Don McKay of the Edmonton chamber said Calgary may claim oil company buildings, but Edmonton is definitely the centre of the producing area with such vast fields as Leduc, Redwater and Golden Spike within easy driving distance.

Calgary, without oil or expansion of oil development, cannot claim oil supremacy, he added.

But the most indignant protest came from Edmonton's city fathers, who commented: "That cowtown might as well say it's the diamond capital of Canada, too, because they probably sell diamonds in Calgary, and that's about as close as they come to being an oil centre by selling Edmonton oil in their filling stations."

The DOCTOR Says:

WOMEN SHOULD REMAIN ACTIVE DURING PERIOD OF ADJUSTMENT

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.

The menopause, or change of life, usually begins around the age of 45 and takes several years before the adjustment is complete. Most women pass through it without either physical or mental disturbances of any serious nature.

"The menopause is more than the discontinuance of one physiological function. Actually it represents the development of a new balance between the various internal glands which is caused by gradual stopping of the functions of the reproductive organs.

The most obvious reflection of these changes is the cessation of the menses and the impossibility of further reproduction. Neither of these need produce any concern in the great majority of women; nature has provided these changes for reasons which seem desirable both for the individual woman and for the human race as a whole.

TYPICAL SYMPTOMS

When symptoms do develop, the most common are hot flashes, abnormal menses, a tendency to melancholy, putting on weight, headaches and sleeplessness. Glandular products are now available which can be given by injection or by mouth which will help most of those whose symptoms are severe enough. They act by supplying some of the internal secretion which the patient's own glands fail to supply.

This is a period when many women have leisure time—often for the first time in many years. The menopause ushers in a period of life which has special opportunities for enjoyment.

During the usual two or three-year period of adjustment a woman should be active both mentally and physically. It is not too late to renew old interests which have perhaps fallen by the wayside while children were small or to develop new interests which a woman can follow the rest of her life.

Question: Is a faint color of yellowish brown or light pink in the sputum a symptom of tuberculosis?

Answer: If this occurs at all frequently, the sputum should be examined for blood and for the germs of tuberculosis. Also, it would be wise to have an X-ray of the chest and perhaps other tests. Tuberculosis is by no means the only cause for coloring of the sputum.

Wins Divorce On Grounds Of Cruelty

CHICAGO (AP)—A Chicago woman won a divorce Wednesday on her complaint that her husband had beaten her 400 times since their marriage in 1941.

The divorce, on grounds of cruelty, was awarded to Mrs. Isabelle Veil, 29, by Supreme Judge Rudolph F. Desort.

Her husband, Charles, a gas station attendant, was ordered to pay his wife $30 a week alimony and support for their six-year-old daughter Janice.

Resident Appeals To Council To Curb Midnight Parties In Cars

Couples who want to park in Oak Bay Municipality late at night should do so somewhere where it does not disturb nearby residents.

A Crescent Road resident's complaint of "drinking and petting parties who drive down here to the end of Crescent Road and frequently prevent our sleeping," received a sympathetic ear from council members Wednesday night, and, as a result, the matter is to be looked into by the police commission.

Councillors thought the com-plaintant, a woman, had a right to object when they read in her letter "it is difficult to turn a car down here by daylight and dangerous after dark. Sometimes drivers don't succeed, and land in a ditch or suspended by a back-fender on a rock. Then, as a few nights ago, we are annoyed by more-or-less polite requests to use the telephone and the subsequent arrival of a tow-truck."

These sort of occurrences, the letter pointed out, took place usually between the hours of midnight and two or three in the morning.

Beer-bottle wrappings, cigarettes and other litter also came under fire in the complaint.

The resident had tried her own methods of eliminating the disturbances, but they apparently have not been entirely successful. She said she left a bright light burning outside "which discourages a few," and she says "I used to go out with a flashlight to take the car license number and that intrusion was usually so annoying to the annoyers that they left forthwith."

Oak Bay Council Approves Building Of Foul Bay Curb

Oak Bay Council Wednesday night gave its approval for work to proceed to install a curb on the east side of Foul Bay Road in the 2900 block.

The approval came after eight residents had requested the curb and stated their agreement to pay their share of the costs.

Approval was also given to the recommendation of municipal engineer A. S. G. Musgrave that Ralph Purcell be placed on the permanent staff of the municipality as assistant engineer.

Mr. Purcell has completed his three-month probationary period satisfactorily, the engineer said.

WILLOWS PARK PROBLEM

Problem of week-end traffic around Willows Park received the consideration of the council, and it was decided to have the transportation committee check the possibility of getting the B.C. Electric to re-route their buses so that either they stopped right at the park entrance on the east side of Beach Drive or provision be made for them to drive right into the park to discharge passengers.

In a letter, police chief Hugh Reston told of the hazards of pedestrians cutting across Beach Drive from the bus stop, causing many near accidents because of the heavy traffic.

NO TRUCKS TO PARK

Council ruled that large trucks could not park overnight in the municipality, but that private automobiles could.

Chief Reston told council that his department had received many complaints that trucks parked for long periods on the streets "did not enhance the beauty of a residential street of fine houses."

S. R. Weston and J. G. Worth were reappointed to the Town Planning Commission, with their new terms to be retroactive to March, when their previous terms expired.

Georgia Judge Held As Former Lawyer, Associate Wounded

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—An Atlanta judge Wednesday wounded in the face his once close associate, now a bitter opponent in suits involving divorce, slander and income tax.

Police reported Judge Robert Carpenter, 44, fired five times at John Lockwood, 53, a lawyer.

Then, the officers said, Carpenter chased the wounded man until he fell into a mud-bottomed excavation, 40 feet deep.

A hospital reported Lockwood was in satisfactory condition.

Judge Carpenter, released from jail on a $500 bail, today faced a charge of shooting.

The chief civil court judge, Quincy Arnold, in effect suspended Carpenter from the bench. Arnold said no more cases would be scheduled before Carpenter until the charge against him was disposed of.

Lockwood was once Carpenter's lawyer. They split when the judge's wife, Mrs. Helen Carpenter, filed a divorce action against him, charging cruelty.

Carpenter countered with a divorce action alleging Lockwood had joined with Mrs. Carpenter in an effort to defraud him of control of a hotel, and that they planned to marry.

Mrs. Carpenter held Lockwood's hand as he was wheeled on a stretcher into a hospital emergency room Wednesday.

"Darling, you're going to be all right," she said as she leaned over him.

Council Wants To Know About Costs Of 'Phone Company

Oak Bay Council members want to know more about operating costs and revenues of the B.C. Telephone Company before expressing any opinion on the company's recent application to the Board of Transport Commissioners to grant an increase in rates.

At a council meeting Wednesday night, councillors were asked, in a communication from the Union of B.C. Municipalities, to give their opinions regarding the application.

Councillor P. A. Gibbs said he thought that information as to operating costs and revenues of the telephone company be studied first, but was not sure whether or not the council had the power to ask for such information from a private company, even though it came under the jurisdiction of the Board of Transport Commissioners.

It was finally decided to ask the U.B.C.M. to obtain, if it could, the information and relay it to the council.

Only indication of how councillors felt about telephone rates came when Councillors P. A. Moir and George Murdoch expressed their objection to the extra telephone mileage charge levied against Oak Bay residents at the present time.

Seeks Dismissal Of $251,100.000 Suit

NEW YORK (AP)—The Ford Motor Company Wednesday asked dismissal of a $251,100,000 federal damage suit brought against it by Harry Ferguson Inc.

Henry Ford II, president of the automobile firm, filed a 62-page answer and counter-claim to the suit, which he called "one of the largest civil actions in history."

The answer denied Ferguson's claim that Ford infringed on patents in a conspiracy to destroy the Ferguson tractor firm and seize its business.

Victoria-Born Girl To Be Called To The Bar This Saturday Morning

This Saturday morning at Vancouver, in a ceremony traditional in the legal profession, Mrs. Ian H. Williams, of Victoria, will be called to the bar.

Adding interest to this event is the fact the Mrs. Williams will be the first Victoria-born girl with a University of British Columbia bachelor of law degree to be called to the bar in this province.

As the elder daughter of Magistrate Henry C. Hall and Mrs. Hall, Craigdarroch Road, she has literally grown up "in the shadow of the law," and Saturday's ceremony is the culmination of a long-standing dream.

A dream that was side-tracked for several years when she joined the R.C.A.F. Women's Division during the war, and saw service in Newfoundland and later in Ottawa.

WAR SERVICE HELPS
It was the opportunity offered through her war service, Mrs. Williams is quick to explain, that made it possible for her to return to university for post-graduate work.

"When I discovered we might return to college after we were demobbed," she tells you, "I really began to dream seriously of making the legal profession my career."

As Miss Joan Fernau Hall she graduated from University of British Columbia with a bachelor of commerce degree, and for a time was a member of the staff of the Department of Vital Statistics at the Parliament Buildings.

Then came war service, followed by her marriage in Victoria to Mr. Williams, who had been with the Canadian Navy.

Their honeymoon led inevitably to the college campus where they had both decided to continue studies.

Mr. Williams graduated a year ahead of his wife and is now acting chief analyst and assayer with the Department of Mines. Mrs. Williams graduated this year and since that time has been articled with the firm of Crease, Davey, Lawson, Davis and Baker, as assistant to Mr. H. T. Davis.

"I hope to remain with this firm for some time," she says, "for I still have much to learn."

"We get the theory of law in university, but the practical experience is of greater importance."

Although she is keenly interested in her profession, Mrs. Williams still finds time for many other interests.

She and her husband have a home on Windsor Road, which they are very busy "doing over."

they have a sail boat, White Wings, in which they go off "week-ends" to islands in the Gulf; they belong to the Outdoors Club because they enjoy hiking and skiing, and to the Royal Victoria Yacht Club.

Accompanying the young lawyer when she leaves for Vancouver Friday will be Magistrate and Mrs. Hall and Mr. Williams who will all be present at the Saturday morning ceremony.

Called to the bar with her will be a university classmate, Miss Helen Blewett, formerly of Hallifax, who was articled for a time to P. J. Sinnott of this city.

Other officers elected are Mrs. Elizabeth Deane, Vancouver, supreme secretary-treasurer for the 27th consecutive year; Mrs. Anna C. Knutson, Regina, immediate past supreme honored royal lady; Mrs. Martha Waite, Big River, Sask., supreme trustee; Mrs. I. Robertson, Regina, supreme outer guard; Mrs. Jean Meadows, Nipawin, Sask., supreme conductress; Mrs. Clive Padgett, Toronto, supreme lecturing lady.

Mrs. Marjorie Burke, Portage la Prairie, Man., supreme associate royal lady; Mrs. Grace Conlon, Warner, Alta., supreme loyal lady; Mrs. Phoebe McCullough, Edmonton, supreme chaplain; Mrs. Elsie M. Borrill, Red Deer, Alta., supreme pianist; Mrs. J. M. Kelly, Calgary, supreme historian; Mrs. H. F. Baldwin, Halifax, supreme trustee; Mrs. Mabel Redman, Flin Flon, Man., supreme trustee; and Mrs. M. Dundas, Burns Lake, B.C., supreme inner guard.

Installation of officers followed at a ceremony and banquet held at Sirocco during the evening. Mrs. Knutson, assisted by Mrs. Dean and Mrs. Helen E. Buchanan were installation officers.

Her most recent interest is in the work of Father Patrick Peyton, in Victoria at present on a crusade for increased family prayer to cure the ills of the world.

Much-Traveled Family Leaves Soon For England

Mrs. B. Fick, with her sons, Patrick, right, and Keith Campbell-Rodger, at their home, 1065 Richmond Road.

The interesting family pictured above are off to London for "six months, a year or two, or perhaps permanently," they tell you with happy smiles.

They came from South Africa just three years ago to live in Canada, and selected Victoria as their future home, "almost by the well-known blindfold and pin manner," Mrs. Fick states.

On their arrival it was a toss up whether their home would be in Prince Edward Island or Vancouver Island, they tell you candidly, and then add "Vancouver Island won out because we'd heard of its wonderful climate."

Their three-year sojourn has been very pleasant and they've learned of many things, among them, the friendliness of Canadian people.

But now they're eager to be traveling once more.

Mrs. Fick, who claims South

Africa her home for many years, was educated in Europe, and now wishes her sons to become familiar with the cities and towns she knew in her childhood.

The boys intend to continue their education in London. Keith, aged 17, will work for his arts degree, and 19-year-old Patrick, with the legitimate stage as his aim, will further his studies in drama and voice.

They leave next week by plane for New York (the first long trip by air for the boys), where they'll have three wonderful days for exploration, and then board a Polish ship for the final lap of their journey.

Sister Mary Theodore Completes 75 Years With Sisters Of St. Ann

Seventy-five years ago Sister Mary Theodore entered the Community of the Sisters of St. Ann, at Lachine, and made religious profession at the Motherhouse, July 26, 1874.

She was born at Oswego, N.Y., on Nov. 29, 1856, and educated there and at St. Ann's Convent, Lachine, Que.

In 1878 she came to Vancouver Island traveling via Southern Pacific to San Francisco and then up the coast to Victoria.

This week, Sister Mary Theodore, now 85, is celebrating her Jubilee of Grace, or 75 years of religious profession and will be honored Sunday afternoon at the annual St. Ann's Alumnae reunion to be held at St. Ann's Academy from 3 until 5 o'clock.

AUTHOR OF HISTORIES
Throughout the years Sister Mary Theodore has made herself an authority on missionary history and Pacific lore, and even to the present her interest continues though she is unable to do any great amount of writing. However, she is still alive to current happenings and is a ready conversationalist.

She has written several books dealing with either community or diocesan history, notable among them being "The Chapter of Years," "Pioneer Nuns of British Columbia" and "One Hundred Titles of Our Lady." She has also contributed historical articles to many magazines.

In recognition of this work and in tribute to her devotion and literary skill she was awarded, in 1946, an honorary doctorate from the University of Ottawa. She is also a member of the Catholic Order of Living Authors in Missouri.

On the Feast of St. Ann, last Tuesday, Sister Mary Theodore was honored when old pupils and friends joined the Sisters of St. Ann to offer congratulations and to hear the nonagenarian reminiscence of early days in British Columbia.

She still recalls when she was one of Vancouver Island's young missionaries. Her memories of the Cowichan School for Girls are vivid as are her word pictures of pupils of many more than four decades ago.

She remembers her trip by the

steamer Cariboo Fly with the late Sister Mary Rosary to Cowichan where Bishop Segieure and the pioneer priest, Father Rondeault met them in canoes. She will tell you of the days when the sluggish waters of Victoria Harbor reached to within a few yards of the Convent gates before the Empress Hotel was built. And she remembers the old wooden bridge across the causeway and the many times she walked across it.

Although Sister Mary Theodore also taught at Nanaimo and in Juneau, most of her days on this coast have been spent at St. Ann's Convent in Victoria.

And from the cloister of her infirmary room she still exercises a great influence.

Her most recent interest is in the work of Father Patrick Peyton, in Victoria at present on a crusade for increased family prayer to cure the ills of the world.

COMPLETE WARDROBE

We may not all be Lana Turners or Ava Gardners, who, with the flick of a graceful wrist can order complete ensembles with not a thought as to cost. But we can all be as well-dressed and groomed.

That is, according to movie designer Helen Rose, who whips up $1,000 nighties and dream wardrobes for a host of screen love-lies.

Miss Rose tells us that "Miss Average Girl" can get the same results for $114.75. Here's the way she shapes up her wardrobe. Prices compare favorably with those in Victoria.

Shoes, $8.95; dark wool suit, $25; white straw hat, $6.50; bag, $5; white cotton gloves, $1.50; white blouse, $2.95; basic black dress (simple lines), $17.95; short pastel coat, $10.50; checked skirt you can mix-match with your suit jacket, $7.95; sport shoes, $5; colored blouse, $2.95; three pair of stockings, $4; five panties, $2.50; girdle, $5; two half-slips, $3; two bras, $3.

Just a hint to the younger set—Miss Rose does a lot of her shopping in the "teen-age" section, where styles are very smart—at school-girl prices. generous cuffs.

COAT DRESSES AGAIN

It's tunics and coat dresses this fall—fashion press in New York were impressed with designer Monte-Sano's advance fall fashions. His coats have full circular capes, and his dressy coats create attention with their basque silhouette. Another of his designs is an abundant great coat, with side-swept wraparound.

ORIENTAL SPLENDOR

Mmmmm! If it's color you're looking for, you'll bubble over with joy at the fascinating new tones in the fall collection of Anthony Blotta.

Inspired by the land of the maharajahs his "India Modern" group, including everything but the temple bells, has intriguing shades of Bangor brown, rhama blue, oriental flame, Bombay beige, Hindustan taupe, lotus leaf green and Hindu sand. He spatters his dresses lavishly with jewels and sequins and gives us a brand new trick—hidden temple pockets, he calls it—which are really jacket pockets slit at the sides so you can reach other pockets in the dress beneath.

And you can try one of his newer ideas, "Ghandi rever"—a looped lapel stitched to the lapel, on your own suit.

The designer's skirts also favor the far east—his regum skirt is pulled tight in front with deep folds at the sides which suggest a back overskirt. His punkha-Korset as part of the proper attire for the University of California in Berkeley, where she starts the fall semester as a freshman. She wears a corduroy set featuring a topper with a huge, windswept back, jutting collar and generous cuffs.

THE COLLEGE SET

A neat bag of tricks for the college girls—for campus and date wear—includes natty wool turtle-necked shirts, and side saddle skirts in sturdy wools and gay colors. Janet Walker is champion flannel vest, red flannel skirt, and brown-jersey turtle neck shirt, is typical of her fall designs.

NEW FABRICS

If you're one of those people who keeps to strait-laced wools or gabardines in fall and winter, here's a fashion news special that will lift you clear of that rut. A flock of brand-new fabrics has been designed by Claire McCordell, known in New York as "high priestess of that casual look." Her designs include attractive tapestry knits, soft rayon and wool jerseys, nubby

CHILD RESPECTS ACTION MORE THAN WORDS

Children need explanations and they need to be given reasons for a parent's remands; but too many explanations and too much reasoning can defeat their purpose. Mothers can become so involved in effusive explanations that these become a form of attention, which children misbehave to get.

Betty climbs out of her high chair and up on the dining-room table. "You can't do that," says her mother, "no one sits on the dining-room table. That's where we put food. Get down now, quickly."

But Betty does not move. She looks at her mother slyly. She picks up a slice of tomato from a plate and stuffs it in her mouth. "You can have that if you will get up in your high chair," mother explains. "You don't see Mommy and Daddy sitting on the table, do you? Little girls can't do that, either. Get down and you can have your dessert, now."

Betty, impervious to her mother's voice, is highly entertained sliding on the table top. She is having fun so why get back into the confining high chair. All that was needed was to have said quietly, "We sit in chairs," and promptly lifted the child down and put her there. If she cried, then she was through with her meal and could be excused. All the talk only heightened the child's determination to do something she was told "couldn't" be done.

Mothers depend too much on the spoken word and not enough on the more fatiguing action. They exhort, they scold, they humiliate, they fill the air with chatter. And what does the child do? The child goes on doing what it wants to do and lets the chatter fall on deaf ears.

Too much talk is confusing to a child. So confusing, in fact, that the child doesn't listen. You hear mothers going out at intervals and yelling to their children to come home. And the children say, "Yes," and go on playing.

Mothers plead with the child to pick up clothes, or go up and wash hands and face, or to be quiet, or what have you. Do they? You know they don't, because voices are being used instead of action.

Our leaflet No. 70, "Asking Why and What For," is for the parent who is harassed by too many questions of WHY the child has to do this or that. It

Blind Citizens Enjoy Party In Pemberton Road Garden

The attractive garden at the Pemberton Road home of Mrs. H. Weldon was the setting, yesterday afternoon, for the annual garden party for blind citizens of Victoria and their friends, sponsored by the Women's Auxiliary to the Victoria Branch, Canadian Institute of the Blind.

Mrs. C. H. King, auxiliary president, assisted Mrs. Weldon in receiving guests; Mrs. F. E. Winslow was in charge of tea arrangements, and Mrs. C. F. Armstrong the convener of transportation.

Tea tables, set on the sun-dappled lawn and in the shade of a spreading walnut tree, were centred with bouquets of sweet peas, gypsophila, Shasta daisies and hydrangea blossoms, arranged by Mrs. A. W. Jones.

Specially-invited guests were His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. Charles A. Banks, Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Barnard, Mr. and Mrs. John Hart, Miss Sara Spencer, Mrs. Nancy Hodges, M.L.A.-elect and Mr. H. W. Davies.

A musical program of favorite songs was presented by Fred Fisher and Bob McGill of Victoria's Hometowners' Band.

During the afternoon, on behalf of the White Cane Club of Victoria, Mr. Davies read a statement of donations made to the Aid to Overseas Blind Fund, showing the Victoria club had headed the subscription list in British Columbia with a donation of $70.50.

Miss Dorothy Stark, secretary of the Victoria branch of the C.I.B., expressed thanks of the gathering to Mrs. Weldon and the women's auxiliary.

Three hidden-door prizes, drawn by Mrs. Hodges, Mrs. King and Mr. Davies were won by Miss Nellie Lugin, Mrs. Emma H. Spink and Miss L. Otley.

Teas, Sales, Games Net $185 At Navy League Chapter Fete

A perfect combination of golden sunshine, a spacious summer garden with trim green lawns and a view of sparkling blue waters, added to the success of the annual garden party sponsored by the Navy League Chapter, I.O. D.E., Wednesday afternoon.

H.M.C.S. Naden Naval Band, with permission of Commodore J. C. I. Edwards, C.B.E., R.C.N., delighted guests with their selections throughout the afternoon at the affair held at the home of J. T. Barnes, 1183 Munro Street, Esquimalt.

Proceeds from the afternoon tea served on the lawn, and the many attractive stalls and games, amounted to $185.

Officially opening the affair, Mrs. Walter C. Nichol congratulated the chapter on its education work. A corsage bouquet of gladioli was presented to the honor guest.

Mrs. D. W. Carter, regent, and Miss K. Hamber, convener, welcomed visitors.

Seated at the head table were Lady Swettenham and Mesdames Nichol, J. L. Ford, David Doig, F. E. Dowdall, J. L. Gates, W. Williams, Carter and Misses Christine MacNab, Hamber, and Molly Gibson.

Assisting tea convener, Mrs. A. may be had by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request to Myrtle Meyer Eldred in care of this newspaper.

Vancouver Girls Choir Having Good Time In U.K.

LUTON, Bedfordshire, Eng. (CP)—The Elgar Junior Girls' Choir of Vancouver was here Wednesday, the young travelers having arrived Tuesday as guests of the Luton Girls' Choir, which will tour Canada next year.

The Canadian choir, on a tour of the United Kingdom, has already given 27 concerts in England and Wales and has about the same number still scheduled for the northeast of England and Scotland.

The climax will come when they perform at the Edinburgh Festival late in the summer.

"We felt that going to Wales—traditional land of song—was like sticking your head in a lion's mouth," said C. E. Findlater, conductor of the choir. "But apparently we were a great success. In fact, the success in terms of international friendship can't be assessed."

He said the girls will "sing their way back across Canada" at a series of concerts after their arrival at Halifax from the British tour.

The girls find some of the British ways strange, but are having a wonderful time, he added.

"I can't get used to the rows and rows of closed-spaced houses," said Conny Hughes of Vancouver. Louise Hamilton of Vancouver said she thinks the British currency system is "absolutely crazy."

NECKLINES AND POCKETS As most designers do, Capri of New York has chosen a chic label for his fall collection—"American Renaissance"—which depends largely on neckline and pockets for added sophistication. He introduces the Papillon or butterfly neckline... wide flaring lapels... and the Parasola pockets, in gathered pouch bag mode. He's come up with an "Empress Josephine" silhouette... a simple round-necked, short-sleeved style, usually shown in beaded crepe afternoon dresses with tied cord belts.

QUADRA AT YATES

simply swell!*

Here's glorious eating... another of the dozens of ways to use Baumert Cream Cheese.

Fresh-tasting Baumert spreads smoothly on crackers and sandwiches, goes beautifully with fruit salads.

Serve creamy Baumert often... use it like butter. Children love its nutritious goodness... and it's wonderfully easy to digest!

Stays fresh longer too, in its modern fresh-seal wrapper.

Put Baumert on your shopping list in any or all three flavours... plain, relish or pimento.

Recipe

Baumert Celery Filling

4 oz. Baumert Plain Cream Cheese
2 tablespoons coarsely chopped walnuts.

Mix Baumert and nuts with a fork. (Note how smooth Baumert is, easy to "work"). Pack in celery halves with a knife. Ah-b-b delicious!

Esie says:

"Try the fresh, new chive flavor—made by adding real chopped chives to fresh-tasting Baumert. If it's Borden's, it's Got to be Good!"

Increase In Smuggling Of Cocaine Into U.S. Noted

WASHINGTON (AP) — "Extremely disturbing" increases in the smuggling of the drug cocaine into the United States were reported today by the Narcotics Bureau.

Up to now, it said, there had not been any considerable traffic in cocaine, or the use of it, in this country.

In a report on "traffic in opium and other dangerous drugs" during 1948, the bureau said:

"Quite reliable information is at hand indicating that cocaine is available in large quantities in Peru, Chile and Bolivia, and that American seamen are smuggling it regularly into the United States."

"In the Harlem district of New York City there appears to be sufficient cocaine available to satisfy demands in the illicit traffic and it is indicated that a portion of this cocaine is smuggled from Peru to out-of-the-way ports in South Carolina and Alabama and then transported overland to New York."

"Previously there had not existed in the United States any considerable traffic in and use of cocaine."

The United States recently got from Peru a promise that steps would be taken to control the cocaine factories in that country so the drug would not be diverted into underworld channels in the United States.

Shanghai, Rangoon, Calcutta and Singapore were described in the report as "hotbeds of narcotics activities" on the basis of advice the bureau said it had obtained from incoming merchant seamen.

In detailing an increase in heroin seizures, the bureau observed there is "definite indication that the Far East is again a source of supply of heroin."

At another point, it remarked: "The trends in the illicit traffic in narcotic drugs in the United States indicate that some of the old sources of supply, such as Turkey, France and Italy, were active as in pre-war years."

Russian To Join Faculty Of U.B.C.

VANCOUVER (CP) — A Russian expert on Soviet economic planning has accepted a position on the faculty of the University of British Columbia, it was announced today.

Prof. Hans Ernest Ronimois, 47, said he had accepted the position "to evade the necessity of lecturing on political economy under the Soviet Union."

He was once head of the economic and financial administration of the University of Tartu, Russia's third largest educational institution.

Prof. Ronimois will join the faculty of Slavonic studies, formed this year on a $80,000 grant from the Rockefeller Foundation of New York.

In 1941 he fled to Sweden because the Germans, then in control of the Russian university, objected to his Anglo-Saxon sympathies.

From 1947 to 1949 he worked on a study of Soviet economy. "My position... at the university," he said, "gave me a true insight into Soviet economic practice."

Congress Gets Last Say In 'Share-The-Atom' Question

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congress members appeared today to have won a major victory in the hot dispute over their right to help decide whether atomic secrets are to be shared with other countries.

Lawmakers greeted with obvious satisfaction the presidential olive branch held out Wednesday at a closed-door meeting of State Department, military, atomic and congressional policy makers.

President Truman told the Senate-House of Representatives atomic committee through State Secretary Dean Acheson that he feels any action on the share-the-atom issue must have the support of both Congress and the executive branch of government. A vital factor in the question of sharing the United States' atomic-bomb secrets with Britain and Canada is the fact that the United States is largely dependent on those countries for its supplies of uranium—the material that makes atomic weapons possible.

Announcement of the President's position, as outlined by Acheson, was made by Senator Brien McMahon (Dem.-Conn.), chairman of the joint committee.

EXPLORATORY TALKS

McMahon's statement further disclosed that Acheson, acting on presidential instructions, had outlined a plan for "maintaining the status quo" and also for conducting exploratory discussions with Britain and Canada.

Senator Bourke Hickenlooper (Rep.-Iowa), ranking Republican member of the joint committee, said he understood Acheson's plan to mean the United States would not divulge any atomic secrets on a "higher level" than at present. And this level, he told a reporter, is "far below" that involving bomb and industrial information.

He added he was satisfied now that Congress and the joint committee would not be bypassed in what he termed the "so-called negotiations."

Sweeping The City Clean

Even the wind in the Windy City of Chicago won't blow this stuff away. Those are millions of sandflies whose carcasses littered the sidewalk in front of a lakeside restaurant. Seems the flies were attracted by the bright lights of the big city but batted their heads against the wall trying to get to them. Then Mrs. L. Hertzberg, who owns the restaurant had the job of cleaning up the mess.

Doukhobors To Celebrate July 31-Aug. 1; No 'Sons' There

GRAND FORKS (CP)—A 50-year span of residence in Canada—much of it troubled—will be celebrated by 5,000 orthodox Doukhobors here July 31-Aug. 1.

Since the religious sect migrated to the Dominion from Russia in 1899 in an escape from persecution, they often have flouted Canadian law as "man-made." The Doukhobors themselves have splintered into rival groups.

DISPLAY BY GROUPS

That will be depicted at the open-air celebration where Sunday's program will include the religious periods and hymns of thanksgiving so much a part of their lives. The climax will be a cavalcade of 18 groups, each showing some period of the 50 years in this country. Monday will finish with a drama showing the Russia where first the group underwent persecution for refusing to bear arms.

This region is close to the United States border west of Trail.

Most of the province's 14,000 Doukhobors are engaged in fruit growing and live in communal fashion.

Provincial and federal dignitaries have been invited to attend the celebration along with the Russian envoy at Ottawa. Several hundred Doukhobors from California and Mexico will attend.

But a schism in the sect is exemplified by this statement from the celebration committee:

"This celebration has nothing to do whatever with what the Sons of Freedom (or Spiritual Community of Christ) may do, as we (the Union of the Spiritual Communities of Christ) do not intend to have them on the grounds; nor will they have any part in the cavalcade aside from our showing what damage they did to our property and the discrimination they have brought against our group as a whole."

LOSSES TOTAL MILLIONS

Explosions and fires causing damage estimated in millions have rocked the interior in latter years, following earlier periods of nude parades aimed as signs of protest against Canadian law.

The blame for the fire pillage has been laid against the 5,000-member radical Sons group with orthodox Doukhobors mostly the victims. The Sons have claimed that the older group has forsaken the original creed.

Only last week, the Sons gave notice of a possible move to either "Soviet Russia or Turkey." It has drawn no official comment but Attorney-General Gordon S. Wismer now is in Ottawa to discuss the Doukhobor question with federal authorities among other matters.

London Science Exhibit For Blind Persons Only

By ARTHUR W. WHITE

LONDON (AP)—If you can see, you can't get into the London Science Museum's popular science exhibition. It's for the blind alone. They "see" with their hands.

The museum thinks it is the first one of its kind anywhere in the world.

Officials got the idea when a blind boy—surrounded by magnificent exhibits in glass cases—asked what was the good of a museum to him. He couldn't see the exhibits, he said, and he couldn't touch them. All he could do was listen to a guide.

Officials gave him some valuable exhibits to handle—and took the lesson to heart. Next day they hauled out scores of choice items and arranged them on tables in a special room. The National Institute for the Blind hastened to provide descriptive labels in braille. Now the exhibition is thronged every day.

SPITFIRE ENGINES

The exhibition for the blind has everything from a three-foot replica of an ancient Egyptian chariot wheel to the real thing in Spitfire aircraft engines. There are models of aircraft, locomotives and ships, an old spinning wheel, hand looms, mine rescue apparatus, tuning forks, a 14th century axe. They are all strange and wonderful to the sightless.

The Spitfire engine sits ponderously on the floor near the door. The blind go over it lovingly, fingering every bolt. One man, fascinated, spent two hours "looking" at it. That's what they say—"looking" not "touching."

RIGHT HAND 'SEES'

The museum isn't afraid the exhibits will be damaged. The blind have a feather touch. "Seeing" the exhibition is a two-handed job. Visitors use their left hand to read the braille description—while their right races over the exhibit.

The museum doesn't know how many of Britain's 76,000 blind will come. But the exhibition is packed every day.

For blind youngsters, a visit is "better than listening to the circus." That's what one told his mother. Not all, however, go away happy.

Attendants saw one youngster "looking" at a model yacht. His hands strayed over the pencil-like mast. Suddenly he stiffened, then he ran, his face contorted with fear and tears.

His escort told the story. The boy was blinded in the war when he tried to dismantle a tiny German "butterfly" bomb he found in his backyard.

The last thing the boy touched before the explosion was the pencil-like detonator.

Slick With Taxes

SACRAMENTO, Cal. (UP)—Spike Jones, bandleader, is best known as a madcap musician but California state unemployment insurance officials now know him as an able business man also.

Jones—real name, Lindley A.—has proven himself no slouch in tax matters.

The state department of employment ruled that orchestra leaders are responsible for paying the employer's share of their musicians' unemployment insurance tax.

Jones protested a bill from the state for back taxes under the ruling, but he paid in full and took his objections to the department's appeals board.

The board agreed with Spike's reasoning that the back taxes were uncalled for under the ruling in effect for the period involved. The board directed the return of the protested $1,207 payment to the leader of the City Slickers.

Newspaper, Union Sign New Agreement

The Labor Relations Board announced today that a new collective agreement had been signed by the Vernon Typographical Union and the Penitentiary Herald.

The agreement provides for a 40-hour five-day work week and eight statutory holidays with pay.

A. C. A. Baker, conciliation officer for the Board of Kelowna, assisted the parties in reaching the agreement.

Orphans Guinea Pigs

By LEO TURNER

MOUNT VERNON, N.Y. (UP)

—The three little orphans, who were selected as guinea pigs to find out what children like to do on vacations, are back home again, tired but happy.

"Well," said Dr. John Frensen, superintendent of the Wartburg Farm School, when he let them in at 11 at night, "you got home all in one piece."

The three children, Joan Troesche, 12; Eddie Carlson, 9; and Helen Schruell, 6, were selected in an essay and drawing contest. They were taken on a two-week trip to Washington and Williamsburg, Va., by Carol Lane, travel research director for Shell Oil Co., and Elizabeth Baker.

Neither of the young women had any experience when they left. They had plenty of experience by the time they got back.

NEED WIGGLING ROOM

"The important thing we learned about children and vacations," Miss Lane said, "is that children like to dawdle at their meals and when going to bed and getting up. They also have to have room to wiggle. They can't be expected to act like grownups, and if they're treated as children, the vacation goes along fine."

The three children could not agree on the most impressive thing about the vacation.

Twelve-year-old Joan said "the nation's capital."

Eddie said the F.B.I.

And blue-eyed Helen could not make her mind up between the woolly-worm on the steps of the governor's palace at Williamsburg or the calf she saw beside the road.

"We took plenty of time to let them see whatever attracted their attention," Miss Lane said. She tabulated her findings as follows:

Under "do" she wrote: Have children feel responsible for the success of the trip by assigning each one small tasks such as locking the rear car doors and setting up cots in the evening; take along mosquito dope, sunburn lotion, poison ivy lotion and laxative, as well as standard first aid kit; keep a box of dime-store toys on the back seat floor and let a child take out one toy at a time; make everyone get out and stretch each time the car stops; choose overnight cabins with play space; carry a folding cot and sheets if party makes an odd number; keep a wet washcloth handy; carry brown paper grocery bags for car sickness; keep children on a simple diet; play games to keep them from becoming bored while riding; give them plenty of sleeping time.

And "don't" jump out of your

Urge Kin Of Dead Soldiers To Join Next-Of-Kin Branch

The Victoria branch of the national-wide Next-of-Kin Association is seeking to gain as members all men and women related to servicemen who died overseas in the Second World War.

All those wishing to join the branch are asked to attend a meeting to be held at the home of Mrs. W. W. Taylor, 1556 Lionel Street, at 8 on the night of Aug. 9.

Since the chartered association was organized in the postwar period—with headquarters in Montreal, branches have sprung up all across the Dominion.

Purpose behind the association is to foster the plan of overseas visits to graves of Canadian soldiers, airmen and sailors who were killed in the recent war. The association is seeking to get government support.

Those people who attend the meeting will be given a complete outline of the aims and purposes behind the Next-of-Kin movement.

Mrs. Taylor said that the branch in Vancouver has become popular and that it now boasts a membership of more than 400. "The response here has been poor to date. We only have 15 members so far," said Mrs. Taylor.

Ask Parliament Vote $4,000,000 For Television board of governors said today, there should be television in Canada within 12 to 18 months, that is, sometime in late 1950 or in 1951.

The government asked the Commons to vote the money at the final session of the last Parliament, but that was one of the things left undone at prorogation for the June 27 election.

Interim government policy, as outlined by Revenue Minister McCann, calls for establishment of CBC station in Montreal and Toronto. In the great majority of Canadian communities, Mr. Dunton said, private enterprise will have prior opportunity to get into the field—if it can afford to.

Okanaganites Believe Ogopogo Went For A Stroll On Beach

KELOWNA (CP)—You can't keep a good Ogopogo down. "And what," you enquire, "is an Ogopogo?"

A good question. At this Okanagan lakeside city today they're beginning to wonder.

He used to be known only as a cavorting sea-serpent. But the other morning, they say, Ogopogo went for a stroll on the beach.

Various descriptions have labelled Ogopogo, as having sometimes a sheep-like head, sometimes a serpent-like body and once black coils.

UNDULATIONS OBSERVED

All those who claim to have seen him agree on one point: He undulates!

But the footprints have every one baffled. Coming out of the water is a trail of prints—cup-shaped imprints with eight toe-marks—about a mile south of here. The trail extended along a short section of beach and then re-entered the water.

Word got around and a corps of newspaper men from Vancouver made haste to the scene, made notes and made stories in their journals. The reports tallied—eight toe marks.

And a tourist from the United States, W. C. Ulrich of Omak, Wash., claims he heard "a terrific splash during the night."

Though it's only in the last few years white people have claimed to have seen him, the Ogopogo is part of Indian legend. The red man named him "Auck."

Years ago a bone-one and one-half feet long and about a foot through, alleged to have come from the back of one of Ogopogo's ancestors, was found at nearby Rocky Point.

Another time Indians were hunting deer by their method of chasing them to the water, where the squaws waited in canoes for the kill. An exceptionally large deer was being pursued by the squaws when it sank "as if drawn under, while the water boiled as in a great cauldron."

It is said that at the north end of Lake Okanagan a fountain of water, 30 to 40 feet high has been seen to rise as from a hidden hose-pipe.

Ogopogo isn't B.C.'s only maritime monstrosity. There's Caddy (Cadorosaurus), the long, roving, sea monster first sighted near Victoria years ago and which keeps popping out of the coastal waters. And until the time of her demise, back in 1941, there was Sarah the Sea-hag, a distinctly graceless relative of Caddy.

And now Ogopogo goes for a stroll.

Chinese Masses Millions From $10

SAN FRANCISCO (UP)—A 66-year-old Chinese who came to San Francisco 49 years ago with $10 in his pockets has run his wordy fortune into several millions by building a herbal empire, buying real estate and selling spicy night club entertainment.

He is fabulous Fong Wan, known mainly as the "king of the herbalists in North America." He acquired his title by treating thousands who claimed to suffer from almost every ailment known to man.

More orthodox practitioners scoffed at Fong's methods as being based on superstitious folk lore. In 1940 at federal trade commission hearings, his theories were attacked and his advertising branded false and misleading.

A year later the commission decided Fong's methods were of "historical interest only, with no acceptability in the scientific sense." He was ordered to cease advertising. Fong was not stopped, however. The astute oriental bought pages of advertising space in newspapers, inserted testimony from the hearings, which was largely pro-Fong.

Although his main business has been herbs, Fong is making thousands in real estate and income from two hotels he owns in San Francisco, plus restaurants and night clubs.

All-Sooke Day Provides Thrills For 10,000

Sooke history was re-enacted before an audience of 10,000 at All-Sooke Day as an Indian chief greets the "first white settler." Chief Danny George, in ceremonial regalia, extends the hand of friendship to Robert Taylor, portraying Capt. W. Grant. Flanking the chief are his Indian runners, and left to right are; Inspector Bob Owens, Education Minister W. T. Straith, K.C., and P. W. deP. Taylor.

Re-Enact Sooke History; Times Baby Show Popular

Sleek war canoes and Indians with painted faces, feathered headdress and traditional costume, took a record crowd of 10,000 men, women and children to the Sooke of a century ago as they enacted the coming of the first white settlers at the 13th annual All-Sooke Day, at the Sooke River Flats, Wednesday afternoon.

The canoes glided to a halt. Two Indian runners announced the arrival of Capt. Walter Grant and John Muir.

While the pipers played "Over the Sea to Skye," the two came from the canoes and were greeted by Hon. W. T. Straith, K.C., Minister of Education, Inspector Bob Owens of the B.C. Police, Chief Danny George and P. W. deP. Taylor.

Portraying his great-grandfather was Leonard Muir while Robert Taylor appeared as Capt. Grant. They circled the grandstand enclosure and the day's events officially began.

Brilliant sunshine, warm breezes and a gay atmosphere all added to the success of the day. Families began arriving at 9 in the morning, to have some fun before the crowds descended and tucked away generous portions of the famous Sooke-style barbecue beef, to say nothing of the Sooke fish and Sooke clam chowder.

FIRST DAY IN '34

The entire community had been working and planning for months for the big day. Sooke Community Association held the first All Sooke Day in 1934, when Vancouver Island, like the rest of the world, was still somewhat depression-groggery.

They kept at the annual events, with the exception of the war years, until today it is not only a day of fun, games and good food, but a successful financial venture for district improvements.

The district's centenary added greater significance this year.

A bit of the afternoon with parents was the Victoria Daily Times baby contest for rural babies up to 18 months of age, with good-looking Robert Wakeham, 16-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Wakeham, 916 Happy Valley Road, taking top prize for the best baby in the show.

MANY TOURISTS COME

People came in the thousands by boat, train and car; tourists from California, Oregon and Washington, from the prairies and points east for the colorful loggers' sports which included tree chopping, climbing and high rigging events.

Of course, hundreds of Victorians took advantage of the Wednesday half-holiday to see how their neighbors were getting along.

Coming near the flats, cars were bumper to bumper but traffic was kept snarl-free under the expert direction of the Provincial Police, assisted by boy scouts under Len Jones and Dave Anderson. On hand to render first aid were members of St. John Ambulance Brigade, Girl Guides and West Coast Ambulance Service.

For some it was not only a day of gala festivities but one of memories. One with memories was Mrs. J. R. Robertson of Vancouver, granddaughter of John Muir. She was accompanied by her niece, Miss Vera Mesher, McKenzie, N. Newman, Alan Woodrow and S. Swenson. Lady Smith, with Woodrow taking first place.

HIGH-RIGGING THRILLS

Always a chief crowd thrill was the high-rigging with all entrants whipping up the 51-foot spar tree which was held securely by three giant cables.

Elwood Alexander, a Victoria man working at Campbell River, was first, making the ascent and descent in 35 seconds. Second place went to Jerry Pappenberger, well-known high-rigger from Salt Spring and former winner at All-Sooke Days, whose time was 38 and 45 seconds.

The ladies not to be outdone in the heftier sports tried their hand at driving four-inch spikes into a plank. Teen-agers to grandmothers stepped forward with their hammers when the contest was announced.

GRANDMOTHER A WINNER

Mrs. T. Perrin of Shirley, who raft third, is a grandmother. Mrs. L. Corfield was first and Alice LaFleur, second.

Taking the tug-o-war with the best two out of three pulls was the Victoria City Police team, under coach Sgt. Tom Bannister. They defeated the army team coached by Sgt. Maj. Jack Steeves.

While Harry Helgesen was Another veteran of island logging sports is Phil Whittaker, Duncan, who let the chips fly in the square timber chopping. He came first, chopping through the 12x12 in 2 minutes 53 seconds.

Sun-bronzed and well-muscled Alan Woodrow, Courtenay, made a habit of first prizes in the loggers' sports. Here he saws through a 30-inch diameter Douglas fir in the log-sawing contest he won.

winning the log rolling contest, over in the baby-judging tent his 13-month-old son, Edward, was taking honors as the best Sooke baby. He weighed in at 30 pounds and was one of 29 babies taking part in the baby show.

In their best bib and tucker, the babies gurgled, cried and chuckled by turns as they were brought before Dr. Russell Robertson, who had one of the busiest jobs of All Sooke Day. He judged the baby show. Lenore Honors in the baby show, sponsored by the Victoria Times, went to Edward Helgesen, 13 months, best Sooke baby, and Lenore Lewis, three months, best baby under six months. Left to right: Mrs. H. J. Helgesen, with Edward; and Mrs. Howard Lewis, with Lenore.

Lewis, three-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Lewis, was judged best baby under six months.

Mrs. H. L. Robertson was again in charge of the contest, while the Victoria Daily Times donated all the prizes.

SERVE BARBECUE BEEF

Taking care of the food end of things was Andre Robillard and his corps of servers who kept the salmon ready and waiting. James Forrest did likewise for those who wanted to taste the succulent beef, which had been slowly barbecuing in pits since midnight.

There were more than 400 pounds of beef and some 80 salmon, which had been cooked in trenches of alderwood fires.

A midway with games of skill and chance, a gold rush, 1949-style, under direction of Reuben Acreman and Robert Flitton, and a mammoth dance in Sooke Community Hall Wednesday night, attended by 900 rounded out the day's activities.

Sooke Community Association committee chairman included Robert G. Gibson, president; Frank G. Gray, vice-president, who handled dance arrangements; James Arden, sports; Dr. J. W. McCauley, publicity; Dr. J. deRoche, prizes; Fred Thornber, store on grounds; Mrs. J. W. Soutar, tombola; Richard Cains, games; Charles Bickford, donations; R. Phinny and J. Davidson, horse-shoe pitching. Walter Conder, secretary of the association, was on hand to aid all committee members and chairmen on the grounds.

Ray Hough Hero As Timber Service Knocks Douglas Tire Out Of Zone Softball Play

The best senior A softball team in Victoria today sits on the sidelines, victims of one of the most popular upsets in city softball history.

The mushball upheaval took place at Central Park with some 1,500 fans—probably sensing something in the wind—on hand as Timber Service and Ray Hough came battling through in the final two innings to defeat Douglas Tire in the third and deciding game of a best-of-three zone playoff, 5 to 4.

There was only one thing in the minds of manager Wally Smith and every member of his Timber Service Club, and that was to beat Douglas Tire. The feud between the two clubs, which has been smoldering all season, definitely reached its climax last night as Timmermen went down to defeat and the fans, who love to see the underdog win, really roared. Jim Lackie, Douglas Tire manager, as the result became apparent.

SMITH JUBILANT

Most worried man on the field until the top of the eighth when Douglas Tire enjoying a 4 to 2 lead, was Smith, Timmermen's manager. Big Wally was up and down off the bench like an elevator as he strove for some key to victory. Then the tide changed rapidly, and as Timber Service made their bid, Lackie became the souful one, with Smith actually "running" on to the field to help mob Hough when the game was over.

Initial action in the game came in the third inning when Hough tripled home the first Timber Service run and later scored himself on Bernie Clarkson's long fly to centre.

MORRISON HOMERS

Douglas Tire came back in their half of the stanza to take the lead on four runs. The first came when Robinson walked, advanced to second and third on infield outs and scored on a passed ball. A single by Henry Harris, Gar Taylor's scratch bunt and a line drive home run by Jim Morrison put the former western Canada champions in the lead.

The game stayed that way until the top of the eighth when Timber Service scored one run. Clarkson legged out an infield to Taylor and circled to score on Gus Hilton's single.

But it was in the top of the ninth the fans really got their money's worth.

Joe Bryant, substitute pitcher, sent in as a pinch hitter, walked. Doug Hudlin ground out to first. Bryant being safe at second when umpire Tooby reversed his decision after first calling the runner out on a force play. Wally Smith protested the decision, claiming there was no force as Hudlin had been retired leaving first base open and after a consultation with plate umpire Barney Barnswell, Tooby rightly changed his stand and called Bryant safe.

With two out and the winning run on second base, Hough dropped a blooper into short centre field to score Bryant with the tying marker. Clarkson then slashed a single to left field to score Hough with the winning run.

Still not beaten, Douglas Tire threatened in the bottom of the ninth when they placed runners on first and second with one out. On the next play, shortstop Clarkson bobbled a ground ball and the ball rolled into left field.

Vic Dale, trying to score from second, was cut down at the plate as Clarkson rifled the ball to the plate. Then with runners on second and third and two out, Hough got the dangerous Ken Gunter to left to Bryant in centre field and the game was over.

Hough was definitely the hero of the game. He was pitching his second game in three nights and turned in his second straight win over the senior league champions. He drove in two runs including the tying run and scored two himself.

Morrison, Douglas Tire shortstop, was chased from the game in the eighth inning for charging umpire Tooby after being picked off first base.

REDS WIN EASILY

In a women's league semifinal playoff Red's Service trampled Toppers 18 to 2. Dora Jones went the route for the winners, allowing but three hits.

In a senior B men's game West Heat trimmed Westinghouse Airways 6 to 2.

Short score of senior A game follows: R. H. E. Timber Service 5 6 3 Douglas Tire 4 6 2 Hough and Wilson; Gunter and Harris.

Peter Salmon Cinch To Make Games Squad

VANCOUVER (CP)—Canada's mermen and maids kicked, stroked and dived their way to places in the Dominion's British Empire Games swim team here last night, breaking one more and likely two records on the way.

Although it will be a day or two before the official competitors are announced the judges lost no time in scribbling marks opposite at least two names.

These were Vancouver's blue-eyed speed queen, Irene Strong, whose time of 1:13.4 set a Canadian record for 100 yards breaststroke, and Pete Salmon of Victoria, who made a clear sweep of the same event for men as well as the freestyle finals.

Miss Strong set the former record of 1:15.2 last year. Salmon came within two-tenths of the Canadian record in the breaststroke, clocking a time of 1:02.1.

RELAY MARK

In the team events the Vancouver Amateur Swimming Club, led by Miss Strong, churned up the pool for a record in the 400 yards freestyle relay with a time of 4:28.2. This mark, officially noted as a "club team" record, will probably be announced as official tomorrow.

The record-breaking quartette consisted of Irene Strong, Pat Whiteside, Dorcen Liddicoat and Kay McNamee.

In the diving events a Vancouver housewife and mother, 30-year-old Lynda Adams Hunt, won the three-metre springboard diving event over two of the Dominion's best divers.

No stranger to swim competition, the attractive blonde previously represented Canada on Empire Games squads.

Today's events will bring together the crack Olympic trio, Vivian King, Winnipeg, Miss Strong and Kay McNamee of Vancouver in the 100 yards freestyle for senior women.

Pro Patria Defeats Selkirks In Boxla; Jokers Meet T.A.C.

Pro Patria junior lacrosse squad, still smarting from a 9 to 8 defeat at the hands of Jokers' Selkirks a week ago, came up with fourth-quarter scoring spree at Stevenson Park Wednesday night and defeated the blackshirts, 14 to 7.

After Evan Oakley tied the game up at 3 to 3 in the second quarter, the Pro Patria men never looked back, maintaining a 5 to 4 edge at the half, and increasing it to 7 to 5 at three-quarter time.

They doubled their count in the final frame, with Oakley adding two more goals to his total to give him scoring honors along with Jokers' Art Green who had one goal and two assists.

The contest was one of the cleanest of the season, with only a pair of two-minute penalties, both to Pro Patria, being handed out by referee Ed Popham.

SENIOR GAME

Tonight at Stevenson Park, Jokers and Tillicums of the local senior loop clash in a game to decide sole occupancy of the cellar spot in the three-team wheel.

Both teams are tied four and a half games behind the pace-setting Foul Bay team, but Jokers are slight favorites to take tonight's tilt as a result of their one-goal victory over the leaders Tuesday night.

Game time is 6:45.

Leading Yakima Can Look To Seals For Player Help

VANCOUVER (CP)—Here is bad news for Western International League baseball clubs.

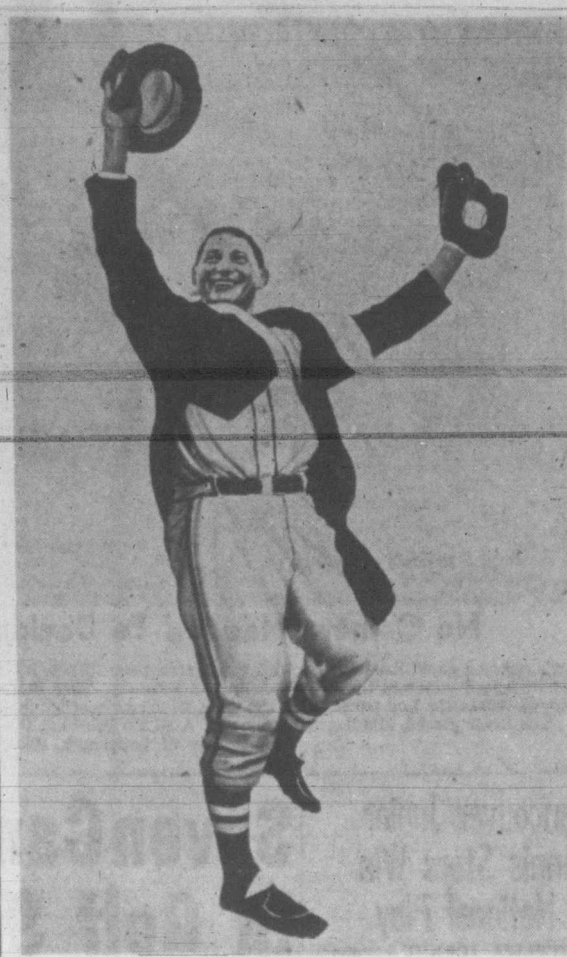

Dewey Soriano, president of Yakima Bears, current league leaders, said in an interview, his club could ask for and get any player on the San Francisco Seals of the Coast League, except pitcher Con Dempsey, who is being groomed for the big wheel.

The Seals own 50 per cent of the stock in the Yakima club and intend to see the Bears win the pennant this year no matter what the cost, he said.

"There is not much chance of us folding," Soriano said. "At the first sign of a slump, we can have Cliff Melton or Jack Brewer to help our pitching." Melton is a veteran who was one of the New York Giants' big winners a few years ago. Brewer is one of the Coast League's most consistent winners.

"With the Seals aid in players we already have broken a Yakima record for attendance, drawing over 90,000 fans."

In regard to his team Joe Orenge, club manager, thinks Lloyd Dickey is one of the best pitching prospects he has ever seen. The Seals own Dickey's contract.

Baseball's Greatest Entertainer

Celebrating his 25th anniversary as the game's clown prince, Al Schacht will appear in the city for the first time Saturday night when Victoria plays host to Yakima in a W.I.L. game. Schacht is famous for his clowning feats on the diamond and must be seen to be appreciated. His knack of satirizing America's national game has made him a part of the game. The former major league pitcher has appeared in practically every league in organized baseball and in 23 world series. During the war he traveled to many places entertaining members of America's armed services.

Prices Remain High At Keeneland Sales

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP)—Keeneland yearling sales prices held close to those of last summer's as the 1949 auctions neared a close today. The average was $5,824 compared with 1948's $6,315.

The sales close after sessions this afternoon and night. William Hells, New Orleans oil man, frequently a high bidder at the thoroughbred sales here, paid last night's top price—$37,000—for a dark bay colt after spirited bidding.

NEW YORK—Pete Kennedy, 147½, White Plains, N.Y., outpointed Pat Kelly, 141, Ireland (8).

Sir Tinker Captures Feature To Pay $27.20

VANCOUVER (CP)—A 13 to 1 outsider won the featured $1,200 seventh race at Exhibition Park Wednesday as Sir Tinker, with Jimmy Sivewright aboard, won a half-length victory over Broad oak and the favored Sergeant Don.

Sir Tinker lay back of the seven-horse field to the final quarter, then moved fast around the outside to get to the top in the closing strides.

The six-year-old chestnut gelding posted mutual returns of $27.20, $11.50 and $4.80.

Another 13 to 1 longshot triumphed in the sixth when Jockey Marvin Moncrief piloted Ignatius to the winners circle and $28.50, $9.90 and $4.30 payoff.

HEAVY GOING

Even favorites posted fair prices on the heavy track.

The daily double hit triple figures for the third straight day as Dry Marsh in the first combined with Bunty's Choice in the second to pay $104.20.

Two quinellas were posted for the second time this season when Pal O'Gene and Sea Fiddler ended up in a dead heat for second. The two pools, Toppet and Pal O'Gene and Toppet and Sea Fiddler paid $5.10 and $6.60 respectively.

Jimmy Sivewright won riding honors for the day with three winners.

Find Answer To Make City Woodyards Safe From Fire

In city police court today, two East Indian woodyard operators were given a month to make their yards safe from fire danger.

They are Kunden Lal and Amrik Singh, charged under the fire department regulations by-law for having chips and fragments lying about other than in a container made of combustible materials.

Claude L. Harrison, city prosecutor, reported that the city engineer and the fire chief had been consulted regarding fire protection steps that could be taken. Mr. Harrison said that if the yards were bulldozed off and covered with a layer of cinders and earth, they would be quite safe.

W. Berkeley Monteith, defence counsel, asked Deputy Fire Chief Phillip Guy about what depth of covering was required. The fire official said an eight-inch to one foot layer would do.

Magistrate H. C. Hall asked the deputy chief if he knew of any chemical that could be used to get rid of the layers of refuse which are the fire hazard. Mr. Guy said he did not know of any.

Mr. Harrison pointed out that the cause of complaint was an accumulation of mill refuse dumped there over many years. Evidence was that one yard was feet-deep with refuse, the wood being on top of that.

The prosecutor noted that some mills did not have proper methods of disposing of refuse and had been dumping it on city lots for years. He noted, however, that the Cameron Lumber Co. mill had a modern method of disposal.

The court ruled that after the layer of earth and cinders there was to be no further dumping of refuse on the sites.

Remand Two Young Men For Sentence

George Blair, 18-year-old Victoria boy, and Roy Jobling, 19, of Vancouver, were remanded to tomorrow for sentence on four joint charges of thefts from cars last weekend, when they appeared before Magistrate H. C. Hall on remand today in city police court.

Three of the cars robbed belonged to tourists.

James J. Proudfoot appeared as their counsel and called several witnesses who spoke of the good character of the accused. Mr. Proudfoot also noted that this was a first offence for both and that they had given police every co-operation in collecting the stolen articles when caught. He asked for a suspended sentence.

Claude L. Harrison, city prosecutor, said that although he was not going to speak as to sentence, he wished the magistrate to take into consideration "that this type of theft is on the increase not the decrease here and is proving a great annoyance to the motoring public."

While Magistrate Hall said it seemed to him Borstal training for the two would be a good thing, he said he would remand for another day to consider the new representations.

Seattle Paper Says Tourist Promotion Superior In Canada

The Seattle Times this week in an editorial pays tribute to Canada's tourist-promotion program and advises Washington State tourist officials that they would be wise to follow this country's lead.

Headed: "Canada Knows How to Lure the Tourists," the article sums up the situation as follows: "British Columbia may equal but cannot surpass what our own Pacific Northwest can offer. But Canada appreciates the importance of the tourist business. Canada needs American dollars; it goes out and gets them."

The editorial goes on to say Canada's organization, planning and advertising for tourists is more effective than that of the Puget Sound country.

"Our own region should recognize, to a greater extent than it does, what the tourist business can mean, and act upon that recognition. There has been too much lethargy—and some element of defeatism."

"Canada gets constantly increased tourist business with slower transcontinental train schedules and no transcontinental highway. The Puget Sound region can do as well—or better—when there is a full recognition of the importance of tourist business and a determination to do more about it."

Silver Medalists Of Royal Conservatory

The Royal Conservatory of Music of Toronto has announced the names of the silver medalists for 1949. A conservatory silver medal is given in each of the four western provinces, in Ontario, in Quebec, and in the Maritimes, to the student who receives the highest mark for his grade in the conservatory's local music examinations. The following are among the names of the British Columbia medalists:

Violin, Grade 3—Marie E. Milburn, 3028 Cabbro Bay Road, Victoria.

Violin, Grade 1—John Oulton, care of Miss Dorothy Francis, 997 Southgate Street, Victoria.

Organ, Grade 8—Faith Keifer, care of R. T. Bevan, 910 McClure Street, Victoria.

City More Like Coney Island Than England, Artist Says Here

Victoria is losing its atmosphere of "a little bit of old England," and looked more like "Coney Island with all its lights," to a man who was born here but has not seen the city since 1932.

Robin Watt, prominent artist now residing in Montreal, but who lived in England from 1913 to 1948, teaching art at Stowe School, thought on his return to his birthplace that Victoria was killing itself as a tourist town with its "lights that are more garish than romantic."

Mr. Watt, who is staying at the Empress Hotel with his wife, also a native Victorian and an artist, backed up his criticisms with some suggestions:

"The Parliament Buildings look like a ferris wheel at Coney Island outlined in lights—they would be much more effective if floodlights were used. And in practically every town we passed through across the U.S. from Montreal we saw strings of colored lights such as you have down your main streets—they are not unique—but tend to make this city look like many others—and those things are noticed by tourists," he said.

TRADITIONS NOT ENOUGH

Added Mrs. Watt, "your traditions and old families remain, of course, but the tourists are not able to see that side of things. It is the outward signs of English atmosphere they are looking for. It is important that Victoria keep its character and does not get like just another town in Canada or the United States."

The visitors spoke of the great changes in the face of the town. Mr. Watt summed it up like this: "I noticed no great change between the time I left Victoria in 1913 and when I returned for a visit in 1932—but this time, I hardly knew the place."

Another suggestion he gave to keep this city "quaint" was to keep old buildings as landmarks. Mr. Watt even suggested a section of old Fort Camosun should be reconstructed.

Mr. Watt, who specializes in portrait work, decided to return to Canada because of the difficult living conditions in England. At present he is "doing nicely" in portrait work in Montreal, he says.

This painting by Robin Watt is of a former resident of this city and member of a well-known local family—Mrs. H. M. Yates, mother of Mrs. Watt, who is visiting Victoria with her daughter and her artist-husband. Incidentally, today is Mrs. Yates' 83rd birthday—but the trip by automobile from Montreal recently did not bother her in the least, Mr. Watt reports.

Both the artist and his wife urged people to keep sending parcels to people in Britain.

"They get so discouraged and bewildered at times—especially since the country is run by a bunch of amateurs now," Mr. Watt remarked.

EMPHASIZES HARDSHIPS

To emphasize the hardships of the people in Britain, Mrs. Watt said that their small collie dog received as much meat per day on the ship coming across the Atlantic last November as was allotted to five people in England for a week.

On the subject of art, Mr. Watt said he thought there was a great deal more interest in the subject now in Canada than there were 856 municipalities in the U.S. with city managers and 38 had abandoned this form of government by vote of the people after it had been tried. The city manager plan was started in 1908, the federation stated.

Aged Men Enjoy Deep Cove Picnic

Thirty-seven of the city's senior citizens residing in the Aged Men's Home on Cabbro Bay Road enjoyed their annual picnic Wednesday at Deep Cove. In charge of arrangements was J. Stothard, superintendent of the home, and present also were Ald. Margaret Christie, chairman of City Council's aged men's home committee, and Mrs. Florence Mutrie, administrator of social welfare for the city.

The aged men went to the picnic grounds by chartered bus, had lunch at the chalet, were entertained by Stan James and his troupe, took part in a variety of games, and returned home in the afternoon.

There was keen competition in a contest of dart throwing with last year's champion, Paddy Morris, retaining his title.

Pedestrians Aided By Second Signal

There is no more craning of necks or walking out into the traffic for pedestrians trying to find that hidden stop-and-go signal at the northeast corner of Johnson and Douglas Streets.

A second signal, one just for pedestrians has been installed by Kenneth Reid, city street lighting superintendent, and was in operation today.

The original signal is hidden behind a light pole for pedestrians but can be seen clearly by motorists. It has been the subject of much talk for months.

Woolison Returned As Insurance Head

T. H. Woolison was re-elected president of the Victoria Insurance Agents' Association at the annual meeting held recently in the Pacific Club.

F. D. Wickett was re-elected vice-president of the organization, and Lt.-Col. J. N. Gibson was returned as secretary-treasurer.

Named to the executive committee were: H. P. R. Brown, A. M. Taylor, Spittal, G. C. Fraser, G. R. Turner, J. V. Harbord, D. L. Meharey and W. J. Clark.

Indian Chief's Headgear Causes Controversy Here

Appearance of Chief Danny George in a ceremonial regalia at All-Sooke Day Wednesday to re-enact the first meeting of white settlers and Sooke Indians, today stirred widespread controversy over the style of costumes worn by west coast Indians in the early history of B.C. European settlement.

Chief George appeared wearing long flowing feathered headgear and skin robes at the Sooke ceremony.

Provincial anthropologists said the chief was wearing regalia worn by Indians of the foothills and the prairies.

It was pointed out that west coast Indians wore a hat made from roots of trees and looking like a modern garden straw. A design usually was woven on these hats. Women usually wore helmet-shaped hats designed somewhat like the hats women wore in the early 1920's.

Apparently west coast Indians were not fussy about the kind of headgear they wore, except at ceremonial dances. Some chiefs, on these occasions, wore headgear after the shape of the old-style Russian hat, with a whip hanging down the back. The whip was made of skins. A popular hat was a head-ring made of cords woven from the bark of the yellow cedar, similar in shape to the Greek victor's laurel wreath. Other styles of helmet-shaped hats were worn on occasions.

"On the whole, Indians preferred to go hatless," said Miss Betty Newton, artist, who has studied native dress. "They also wore colorful blankets when it was cold."

John Congdon, 1763 Bay Street, has reported to city police that a gang of children has been doing damage to a duplex being constructed at that address. He said they used an axe to chop away one-quarter of the gutter.

The provincial education department reported today that Norma Mary Plub, Victoria High School, had been granted full matriculation standing, following the approval of certain credits for Ontario study. Her name was omitted from the list of high school graduates supplied by the board of examiners for publication last Tuesday.

It weighs only a ton and a half, but carries 5,000 pounds of cargo or personnel. The 60-horsepower marine engine gives it a speed of more than 10 miles per hour.

Document In Bottle Spurs Search For $12,000,000 Will

LONDON (AP)—A note of fantasy has entered the already fabulous search for a will disposing of the $12,000,000 estate of Mrs. Daisy Alexander.

Her London lawyers are investigating a Californian's claim that the missing will, stuck in a bottle, was washed up out of the Pacific—almost half-way around the world—two weeks ago.

Mrs. Alexander, 81, daughter of Isaac Singer, sewing-machine manufacturer, died in London Sept. 19, 1939. No trace of a will disposing of her vast estate has been found.

Ronald Cohen, the lawyer, said Jack J. Wurm of Palo Alto, Calif., had written him that he had found a note in a bottle reading:

"To avoid all confusion, I leave my entire estate to the lucky person who finds this bottle and my attorney, Barry Cohen, share and share alike, Daisy Alexander."

Cohen said Wurm sent a handwritten copy of the note, but that the alleged document, dated Jan. 20, 1937, bore no indication of where it was written, nor was the signature witnessed. He said he was trying to get a photostatic copy of the paper.

HE'LL KEEP IT

In Palo Alto, Wurm, a 56-year-old restaurant man, said he was going to hang on to the original. Cohen also said that two friends of Mrs. Alexander and her butler had told him she had talked of throwing bottled notes into the sea to see where they would turn up.

During the last year the law firm, in search of a will, has been systematically taking apart the house where Mrs. Alexander entertained royalty and societies of three continents at the turn of the century.

Old-Time Thrift To Be Stressed

LINCOLN, Neb. (UP)—A program to emphasize "good old-fashioned American thrift" will be under way in Nebraska public schools next fall.

Mathematics teachers will include problems in investment returns, according to LeRoy Ortgiesen of the state department of public instruction. Social studies instructors, he said, will describe "how investment makes government and private enterprise possible."

Facilities will be provided to enable students to practice thrift by buying government savings stamps, or starting savings accounts in local banks.

"Other states," said Dr. Jarvis M. Morse, director of the school saving program of the U.S. Treasury Department, "could profit by Nebraska's plan of making thrift and investment a part of the teaching program."

Turns Tap On Leaks

CLEVELAND (UP)—A Cleveland inventor has come up with the answer to leaky faucets.

James H. Rand III and engineers in his laboratory here have developed a valve which they claim makes leaks impossible, lasts longer than the metal part of the faucet and eliminates washers.

The new valve is a tapered synthetic rubber plug with a metal insert and stem. To open it you turn the handle of the faucet, lowering the plug and letting the water in evenly. No pressure is required to turn off the faucet. The water itself helps push the plug into place.

"In standard valves used today, one trouble is that the washer is squeezed against the valve seat and damaged every time it is used," Rand said.

Rand's valve eliminates the need for washers, cups and screws and can be used on kitchen faucets, bathroom fixtures, toilets, pipelines, automobile radiators, boilers, washing machines, tires and footballs.

Mayor Has Sweet Talk For Ladies

SAN JOSE, Calif. (UP)—Sweet-talking Mayor Fred Watson knows how to make a hit with the ladies.

He was talking to about 1,000 of the Native Daughters of the Golden West when he paved one foot in the dirt and bellowed: "You California women are the most beautiful in the entire nation."

The girls just sat there and beamed. And then Watson really warmed up to his subject. "He gave them all a wink and said:

"I'm delighted, simply delighted to find myself the only male in this room—with the doors closed!"

The ladies liked that, too. Then, still giggling, they finally got down to conference business.

Weather Ruins Crops.

TOO MUCH—An alfalfa cutter stands isolated by water in a field flooded by a cloudburst near Midland, Kan., deluging it with over six inches of rain. Kansas farmers are complaining of too much rainy weather. The wheat crop has suffered over-moisture and the Kansas River Valley potato crop is imperiled.

TOO LITTLE—Here's what the eastern drought means to the corn crop. Farmer William Hookstra of Beverly, N.J., compares two stalks, the one on the left from a field under irrigation, the other stunted stalk from a field that depends on rain. Atlantic coast farmers face multi-million-dollar losses through prolonged drought.

Variety Of Techniques, Style On Show At Centre

One of the virtues of a loan exhibition, such as the current show at the Arts Centre, Broughton Street, is that one is enabled to appraise and compare a variety of techniques and styles of painting, covering a considerable period.

It becomes of the greatest interest to note the changing values in art; the shift of emphasis from an academic search for truth of detail in character and anatomy, to sheer joy in textures and light values; and most recently, to a restless probing into the psychic or hidden meaning—the overtones and innuendoes—of the passing scene.

One or two examples of work done by artists of the "Group of Seven" illustrate the last mentioned manifestation. Their most obvious charm lies in the extremely sensitive drawing and feeling for atmosphere involved. The utmost in simplification and entrancing delicacy seems to have been reached by Lemoine Fitz-Gerald, one of the "Group," in his charcoal study, "Summer-time."

An extended commentary on the pictures, however, is unlikely to influence individual preferences. Every visitor to the gallery in the next two weeks will soon select his own favorites. As a matter of fact, an open forum on the qualities and varying appeals of the pictures would probably stimulate some pretty warm arguments.

Seattle Ice Club Trains At Vernon

SEATTLE (AP)—Frank Doten, owner of the Seattle Ironmen in the Pacific Coast Hockey League, announced today his club will open training camp at Vernon, B.C., Sept. 15.

He said he expects to have nine holdovers from last year and add seven new men to the squad. By the opening of the season Oct. 9 he expects the Ironmen to be "35 to 40 per cent stronger than last year."

Only Six Of 27 European Countries Free Of Rations

FRANKFURT, Germany (UP)—Twenty-one of the 22 countries in Europe still ration from one to a dozen foods, a United Press survey showed Wednesday.

Four years after the war, only Switzerland, Russia, Belgium, Poland, Greece and Albania have abolished rationing entirely.

In a half-dozen other countries, a decade of rationing will end this autumn.

The Swiss appear to be eating the best. The Albanians, although rationing has been abolished, are reported near starvation. The government ended rationing because food supplies were so short it was meaningless.

Britain and Germany eat the least of the non-Communist European states. They are about on a par with most of the Iron Curtain group.

Fruit and vegetables are plentiful enough to be off ration all over Europe. Fish and poultry are off ration in most

Monte Carlo Scene For 'Other Love'

Fabled Monte Carlo, which has long been the inspiration of legends and romantic tales of adventure, comes in for a large slice of attention in Enterprise Studios' "The Other Love," the contemporary story of a hopelessly ill concert pianist and her final fling at romance.

Actual scenes of the southern coast of France and Italy, the municipality of Monaco and the lavish Casino itself, have been blended with seascapes matching the French Riviera and interiors designed in Hollywood to emulate the world-famous resort. "Other Love" is at the Oak Bay Theatre.

Betty Grable Stars In 'Bashful Bend'

Who else could be "The Beautiful Blonde From Bashful Bend" but Betty Grable, who was again voted the nation's number one feminine boxoffice attraction last year.

Betty proves, in Technicolor, that she can shoot straight—and kiss harder—than any gal west of the Pecos in the new Twentieth Century-Fox comedy at the Capitol Theatre. It's a rare blend of songs, laughs and hilarious action in a western setting that spells entertainment with a capital E.

Where To Go Tonight

(As Advertised)

ATLAS—"Little Women," with June Allyson.

CAPITOL—"The Beautiful Blonde From Bashful Bend," starring Betty Grable.

DOMINION—"The Mutineers," with Jon Hall.

FOX—"Three Godfathers," starring John Wayne.

OAK BAY—Richard Conte and Barbara Stanwyck in "The Other Love."

ODEON—Dan Duryea in "Johnny Stool Pigeon."

PLAZA—"The Great Waltz," with Miliza Korjus.

RIO—On the stage, "English Musical Hall Revue."

ROYAL—"It Happens Every Spring," starring Ray Milland and Jean Peters.

Baseball Comedy Opens At Royal

Every spring, when the birds and bees start watching the guys and gals, "men seen to undergo a peculiar change . . . it's like spring fever, but it lasts all summer." The siren call brings them to the ball parks and the sand lots where the thud of a ball against a mitt, the sharp crack of horsehide meeting ash and the hoarse cries of the umpire combine to make baseball America's favorite national pastime.

Capturing this on celluloid, Twentieth Century-Fox has come up with "It Happens Every Spring." Starring Ray Milland, Jean Peters and Paul Douglas, the films opens today at the Royal Theatre.

Weasel Falls For Chinatown Trap

Blamed for the killing of about 40 chickens in Chinatown during the last few months, a two-foot-long weasel is now in captivity in the Chinese section of the city. The sleek, black animal was lured to a box-type trap in backyard of a Figgard Street cafe. It is being displayed in a rough cage in the cafe.

Pink Party Dress Too Much For Camera

Janet Leigh was "in the pink" for her role of Meg in M-G-M's "Little Women," now being shown at the Atlas Theatre. But she was too pink for the Technicolor cameras.

For a party sequence in the film, Miss Leigh wore a pink dress and pink hair bow and, quite by accident, acquired pink cake and pink ice-cream on her refreshment plate for the scene. The cameraman reported that it was difficult to tell where Janet left off and the refreshments began.

Reports Advance In Cancer Fight

MONTREAL, (CP)—At least one-third of all cancer sufferers can be cured, a round table conference on malignant diseases at McGill University was told Wednesday.

Dr. T. A. Watson, director of cancer services for Saskatchewan, told 40 cancer specialists that cancer of the skin and of the lip—representing about one-third of all cancers—is curable in more than 95 per cent of the cases.

Dr. Watson reported to a meeting called to hear reports from four cancer specialists holding Kinsmen Club Fellowships of the Canadian Cancer Society and to hear the findings of leading cancer specialists across Canada.

Reports on the latest advances in the fight against cancer in major centres of Scandinavia, England, Scotland, France and the United States are being made at the three-day conference opened Wednesday by Dr. Jonathan C. Meakin, president of the Canadian Cancer Society.

ODEON THEATRE

Dan Duryea was badly shaken up during his recent stay at Tucson, Arizona, when he was mistakenly "attacked" by a local resident during filming of a picture.

Duryea, at Tucson with Howard Duff and Shelley Winters for Universal-International's harcolies story, "Johnny Stool Pigeon," now at the Odeon Theatre, was running along the sidewalk for a chase sequence when a bystander, not realizing a film was being shot, made a flying tackle on the actor, knocking him flat.

Duryea suffered scratches and bruises, but otherwise was not hurt by the mishap.

Question 5 In Murder Of Railway Steward

TORONTO (BUP)—Police here questioned five persons today in connection with the murder of Gordon Hearn, 38-year-old railway dining-car steward, but released them immediately afterwards. Inspector John Nimmo, officer in charge of the investigation, said the police were checking several leads in an effort to find the murderer. The battered body of Hearn was found early Wednesday under a boardwalk at an east-end Toronto beach. His head had been smashed and the body was only partly clothed. He had been robbed.

Hearn had been beaten with a blunt instrument, possibly a stone, Dr. W. A. Burr said after an autopsy.

Police today were seeking a laborer friend of Hearn who Hearn's family said spent the weekend with him.

Plan Trimming Job On Civil Service

OTTAWA (CP)—Designed to eliminate work duplication, a trimming job is in store for Canada's civil service.

"The Civil Service Commission has received no word from the government as to the size of the civil service but it is pressing forward with a survey of organization and methods with a view to elimination of duplication," Charles Bland, chairman of the commission, said today.

The government is expected to consider the whole matter this fall. The civil service has almost quadrupled in size the last 30 years and payrolls now are costing the country close to $300,000,000 annually compared with $88,000,000 in 1938.

Boys Unimpressed By Serious Charge In Ottawa Court

OTTAWA (CP)—Unimpressed by the gravity of their position, four boys ranging from eight to 12 years old appeared in juvenile court today charged with indecently assaulting 28-month-old Giselle Lachance.

Judge J. P. Balharré refused to grant bail and suggested a mental examination be made. They were remanded until next Tuesday.

The four children are accused of having committed a vicious attack on the little girl who was found tied and half-strangled in a shed close to her home. When they appeared in court they cowered happily in the waiting room and a couple of times were told to stop playing with the venetian blinds.
